STATE WILL WAIT FOR U. S. MANDATE IN CASE OF FRANK

Supreme Court Has Right to Modify Decision in Any Fashion It Pleases Within Thirty Days.

WILL PASS SENTENCE WHEN MANDATE COMES

At That Time State Automatically Resumes Jurisdiction of the Case—Papers Expected by May 20.

Judge Ben Hill decided yesterday afternoon that not until he had received the official mandate of the supreme court in Washington would he grant the writ of habeas corpus applied for by Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey in an effort to have Leo Frank brought before Judge Hill for passage of a new death sentence.

In this connection the interesting statement was made by Judge Hill that the United States supreme court, within the thirty days it officially withholds its mandate from the superior court, can affirm or modify in any manner its decision in the case in question. In short, the supreme court, if it deemed it proper, can, between now and May 20, revoke its decision in the Frank case, or modify it, or reconstruct it in any form it sees advisable.

Asked for Resentence.

"The application for the writ of habeas corpus presented to me by Solicitor Dorsey this morning," said Judge Hill late Monday afternoon, "requested me to direct the sheriff to bring Leo Frank before the court for the purpose of fixing the date for execution of the sentence passed upon him by Judge Roan.

"The solicitor did not request me to consider any immediate action in reference to the application for writ of habeas corpus, leaving the matter to the discretion of the judge. I will not consider the application for the writ until I have received formal notice from the United States supreme court that the judgment of Federal Judge Newman has been confirmed, and the remittitur of the United States supreme court has been received and filed in the United States district court.

State Resumes Charge.

"When this process has been completed, the state court automatically resumes jurisdiction of the case, which was temporarily suspended while the case was in the United States courts on appeal. When that is done I will grant the writ of habeas corpus directing Frank before the courts for fixing of new sentence."

Under the rule of the United States supreme court the decision in the Frank case will be held in Washington for thirty days before the superior court of Fulton county is officially notified of it. Until the expiration of thirty days, the supreme court has the right, either with or without an application for rehearing, to change or modify their verdict in any manner.

DIVORCED 20 YEARS, COL. OSCAR BROWN AND WIFE REMARRY

Maysville, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—After nearly twenty years of separation and legal divorce Colonel Oscar Brown and the bride of his first love were remarried at Homer, in Banks county, yesterday afternoon.

Colonel Brown was just Oscar Brown, the young lawyer, when a score of years ago he fell in love with pretty Miss Dilline McNorton and married her for the first time. They lived happily for a while and a little boy, Fred, was born to them. But they later had disagreements and separated. Divorce followed, and little Fred was placed in his mother's custody.

After many long years, during which the boy grew to a man's estate, the old love has revived and the family is once more united and very happy.

Colonel and Mrs. Brown are receiving congratulations from hundreds of friends.

MILLEN FARMER KILLS WIFE AND TRIES SUICIDE

Savannah, Ga., May 3.—C. D. Burke, a well-known farmer of Millen, Ga., shot and instantly killed his wife, Mrs. Daisy Burke, this morning in the hall of the Savannah hospital, after he had followed her there to visit their ill daughter, Miss Inez Burke.

After the shooting, which was not witnessed by any of the attendants, he drank poison and shot himself once in the side. He shot his wife four times.

His wounds are not fatal, and he is being held in the hospital under treatment. The body of his wife was turned over to her brother, C. D. Murray, of this city, who will have the proper arrangements made and ship it back to Millen for burial.

MESSAGE BY WIRELESS PANAMA TO ARLINGTON

Washington, May 3.—Announcement that a wireless message had been flashed for the first time during daylight hours from Panama to Arlington was made tonight by the navy department.

The distance is about 2,000 miles and hitherto wireless communication has been at night. The new service is expected to effect a saving in the government's cable bills, as it is hoped to handle all official messages between Panama and Washington by wireless.

Name of Baby Girl, Just 1 Second Old, Put on Cradle Roll

Now Comes the North Avenue Presbyterian Church With Challenge for the Baptist Tabernacle.

Now comes the North Avenue Presbyterian church Sunday school with a challenge for the claim of the Baptist tabernacle that it enrolled the youngest baby in the world. It was reported in Monday's Constitution that a world's record had been broken when the young son of A. M. Smith, superintendent of the primary department of the Baptist church, entered on the cradle roll when only five minutes old.

Dr. Marion McH. Hull, superintendent of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, takes issue with Mr. Smith and has sent The Constitution a signed statement in which he says he has on his cradle roll the holder of the world's record—a baby enrolled at the age of one second. This is little Charlotte Regnas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Regnas, 29 Greenwood avenue, and a member of the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

Dr. Hull's statement relative to the diminutive member follows:

Editor Constitution: I notice in this morning's paper your statement about the youngest baby enrolled in Sunday school. The record is not held by the Sunday school reported, but by the North Avenue Presbyterian Sunday school.

Little Miss Charlotte Regnas, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Regnas, holds the record for the world, having been enrolled on the cradle roll of the North Avenue Presbyterian Sunday school when she was one second old. Very truly yours,

MARION McH. HULL,
Superintendent.

Expensive Smoke Taken By Dr. C. E. Tumlin; Lit Cigar at Church Meeting

Dr. C. E. Tumlin was fined $3.75 by the recorder Monday afternoon for smoking a cigar.

It is against the laws of Atlanta, for any one to smoke a cigar if the smoke is indulged in inside of a church. Dr. Tumlin smoked his cigar while he was standing in a hall at the corner of Marietta street and Bellwood avenue Sunday night. The hall is used as a church by the Holiness people, sometimes spoken of as the "Holy Rollers."

The doctor dropped in to see a friend, so he told the recorder, and as he was leaving thoughtlessly lighted a cigar and began to puff. An officer was summoned and the doctor summoned to appear in court.

"I know that the doctor did not intend to show disrespect to the court," said the recorder, "and I will let him off with a small fine of only $3.75, for which Dr. Tumlin thanked him.

PASTORS OF GLASGOW ENLIST FOR THE WAR

Glasgow, Scotland, May 3.—Most of the pastors of Glasgow enlisted for the period of the war today in a special clergyman's corps and took their first lesson in musketry. They will be attached to the Citizens' training corps.

WOODWARD'S VETO BEATEN, 19 TO 9

Purchasing Agent's Department Is Now Under the Supervision of Members of General Council.

Mayor Woodward went down in defeat again Monday when the general council by a vote of 19 to 9 declared void his veto of the amendment to the ordinance creating the city purchasing department. By the amendment the department is put under the supervision of council.

The faithful few stood by their guns and strenuously opposed the passage of the motion to override, but the majority, which had the city attorney and assistant city attorney with them, gave no heed to the mayor's appeal to "keep the department out of politics," but went roughshod over him.

Friends of the mayor in council have had rough sailing for several weeks and for any of them to initiate a movement in council meant almost certain defeat. Just two weeks ago council set aside the mayor's veto of the Pryor street paving resolution providing for a brick pavement and the work is now being done without his approval.

Illegal, Claims Mayor.

The mayor declares the action in both matters was illegal and he may take the purchasing agent matter into the courts, as he threatened to do with the Pryor street matter. One member of council has volunteered to defray half the expense of taking the former measure into court.

The fight on the mayor started at the very beginning of council meeting. Before City Clerk Walter Taylor had completed reading the minutes Councilman C. C. Mason, who will become chief clerk to Ordinary Thomas H. Jeffries, declared the minutes were incorrect.

Councilman C. W. Smith produced an opinion from City Attorney Mayson, in which Assistant City Attorney W. D. Ellis, Jr., concurred, to the effect that the purchasing agent measure was a general council paper and that it therefore been passed and made a law two weeks ago. The mayor in his veto took the position that it was an ordinance paper and should be voted on by the two bodies separately.

Councilman Mason declared that he had presided at the general council when the measure was up for adoption and that at that time the general council voted. He said the clerk made a mistake in recording it on the minutes when he put down "council only voting."

Ashley Makes Protest.

When Councilman Smith offered a motion that the phrase, "council only voting," be stricken, Councilman C. L. Ashley protested, saying it was plainly an aldermanic paper and that it would be a bad precedent to establish for the general council to handle matters involving the expenditure of money without sending them to the aldermanic board.

Councilman Farlinger said the measure provided for the expenditure of money in that it extended the term of purchasing agent from one to two years. Since the aldermanic board acts separately on matters involving the expenditure of money, he said, it ought to go to the aldermanic board.

After the passage of the Smith motion various routine business was transacted before the veto message of the mayor was brought up for final action.

It began to appear that no action would be taken and Alderman Maddox and Councilman Sam Freeman, of the tenth, left the council chamber. Some time later Councilman Inman, who was counted on to vote to sustain the mayor, was called away on business.

No sooner had Councilman Inman left than Alderman Maddox and Councilman Freeman reappeared; the veto message was called up and action asked, and the vote to override stood 19 to 9. Had Councilman Inman been present the necessary two-thirds vote required to override would not have been secured.

Vote on Veto.

Those voting to override the mayor were: Aldermen Kelly, Thomson, Maddox, Brown, Armistead, Owens and Seawright; Councilmen Alverson, Knight, McCord, Hall, Freeman of the tenth, Lee, Wood, White of the ninth, White of the seventh, Smith, Reynolds and Mason.

Voting to sustain the mayor were: Aldermen McDonald and Dunlap; Councilmen Renfroe, Freeman of the third, Ashley, Farlinger, Johnson of the fifth, Johnson of the sixth and Dallas.

A resolution by Alderman Maddox providing for an appropriation of $200 to defray the expenses of a trip east for the purchasing agent and clerk to the comptroller was referred to the bureau of municipal research. The resolution contemplated an investigation by the city employees of central warehouses as conducted in the larger cities for the use of the purchasing department.

The general council confirmed the appointment of James Dunn as coal roller at No. 1 pumping station. Dunn

Visions of Wealth For Leader Busts New "Jitney" Club

All the Old Members Quit, and Now J. F. Hazelton Is Busy Planning Another Organization.

Having visions of wealth for their president, J. F. Hazelton, it is claimed, practically every member of the "Jitney Bus" club deserted the organization, with the result that it was dissolved Monday. Mr. Hazelton announced he would attempt to organize another club, and said he had several pledged to join him.

The club elected Mr. Hazelton president several weeks ago, and agreed, to pay him 15 cents per day per car operated, for the privileges afforded by the central waiting room on Walton street.

As the club membership increased, some of the members, it is said, figured that with a membership of 1,000 cars, Mr. Hazelton would be receiving $150 per day, and they determined to get a share of the profits. Efforts were made to take over the club, but none of Hazelton's propositions were satisfactory.

"I don't think I was treated fairly by the members, after I put my money into the proposition," said Hazelton Monday. "I had hoped to make some money on it later, and to give the jitney bus operators the advantages of having a central station in return. They did not give me a square deal, and I intend to start over again and organize another club, having each member sign a pledge to abide by the rules.

"Some of the members seemed to think I was making money, when, in truth, I was losing. It would be a long time before there would be such handsome profits as they claimed I was making."

Since the club has already paid its attorney for the suit brought against their fight against the city jitney bus ordinance, the legal program will be carried out as arranged some time ago.

LABOR LEADER LAWSON CONVICTED OF MURDER

Trinidad, Colo., May 3.—John R. Lawson, member of the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, was found guilty of murder in the first degree today in connection with the death at Ludow, Colo., October 25, 1913, of John Nimmo, a deputy sheriff.

Lawson was sentenced to spend the remainder of his life at hard labor in the Colorado penitentiary.

Under the Colorado statutes, the jury, which had been deliberating since Saturday night, was empowered to return a sentence either of death or life imprisonment. Thirty days were given attorneys for the defense to file a motion for a new trial. Lawson was released temporarily in custody of his counsel. He talked quite philosophically of the verdict. He said:

"They may get me, but they can't defeat the cause of labor. I'm not worrying about myself; it's the fight I have been making for the workingmen that I am interested in—and that will go ahead. Even for me, it's a long way to the penitentiary. My attorneys will not give up until everything possible has been done to save me."

Commenting on the verdict, Horace N. Hawkins, chief counsel for defense, said:

"I do not believe the verdict ever will be sustained. It is contrary to the evidence. I shall fight this case as long as there are courts in which to fight."

Denver, Colo., May 3.—Fred Farrar, attorney general of Colorado, commenting upon the conviction of John H. Lawson, said:

"I think this is the first case on record where a leader of a union has been convicted of crimes of violence arising from the conduct of a strike. The McNamara case was based on a confession. The Lawson case was not."

Lawson is a brother of W. E. Dunn, member of the workmen's commission.

The contracts awarded by the bridge committee for repairs and painting of the bridges on Whitehall, Peters and Forsyth streets and Jones avenue were ratified by council over the protest of Councilman Ashley, who said the work should not be done by contract but day labor, so as to give employment to some of the men out of work.

Council referred to the ordinance committee a measure providing that in the future no paving improvements be made until signed releases shall have been procured from every abutting property owner. Those advocating the measure took the position that damage suits are proving expensive for the city and can in a large measure be eliminated if releases are gotten before the work is done.

CAPITAL CITY CLUB BUYS BROOKHAVEN

At Annual Meeting Members Vote to Exercise Option at Once—Clubhouse to Be Remodeled.

ELECT OFFICERS TODAY.

The annual election of the Capital City club will be held today, the polls being open from noon until 9 o'clock at the clubhouse.

The officers nominated at last night's meeting follow: President, Edward H. Inman; vice president, James D. Robinson; secretary-treasurer, Edward Austin; governing board—two-year term—Ulric S. Atkinson; three vacancies for three-year terms, J. Epps Brown, John S. Cohen, Milton Dargan, Jr., and Jack Lewis.

President W. T. Gentry, who has taken an active interest in the affairs of the club during his term, and has been largely responsible for its excellent financial condition, as shown in the treasurer's report last night, declined to offer for re-election.

At the meeting of the Capital City club last night the most largely attended meeting ever held by the club—action was taken by which the option to purchase the Brookhaven estates, known for the past two years as the Capital City Country club, was exercised in the unanimous adoption of the following resolutions, which were introduced by Alfred C. Newell, their adoption being moved and seconded in eloquent speeches by R. F. Maddox and Clark Howell.

"Whereas, the Capital City Country club has afforded pleasure to the entire membership of this club and to their families, and

"Whereas, the operation of the Capital City Country club has added some three hundred (300) members, the acceptance of whom by this club entailed a moral obligation for the maintenance of the Country club, and

"Whereas, material inducements have been offered by the Brookhaven estates, which make it manifestly to the interest of the Capital City club to purchase the Brookhaven property at this time. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Capital City club, in meeting assembled, does hereby accept the written proposition of the Brookhaven estates and directs the president and secretary to communicate the purchase of said Brookhaven club property and hereby gives full authority to the said president and secretary to exercise an issue of ninety thousand ($90,000) dollars worth ninety-five (95) per cent bonds in the name of this club, with a mortgage or trust deed on the Brookhaven Club property.

"The said bonds are to be delivered to the Brookhaven estates upon receipt of the deed in proper form to said club in accordance with the original contract and amended proposition by said Brookhaven estates, conveying a fee simple title, free of liens, to the Capital City club.

"Further, That it is the sense of this meeting that the Brookhaven estates should be required to remodel and enlarge the clubhouse as per plans and specifications submitted by A. Ten Eyck Brown in lieu of the cash donation of $10,000, and that the president and secretary are authorized to protect the club's interest in such manner as they see fit to insure the execution of said improvements, free of liens.

Option Taken Two Years Ago.

This option was taken two years ago by the Capital City club, with the understanding that it would have three years within which to exercise it. Then the club could have continued the use of the property for one year longer on a rental basis, but it was deemed advisable not only by the club, but by the management of the Brookhaven estates, that action should be taken now one way or another to eliminate the uncertainty. The Brookhaven people did not know just where they stood in the future development of the property, and the club could not proceed with its improvement on as broad a scale as contemplated until it became the permanent owner.

So, a few weeks ago, the matter of making a definite settlement of the question was discussed by the club and the Brookhaven estates, which agreed to make material concessions in order to bring about final action.

The original option proposed that at the end of three years the 150 acres of the Brookhaven estates, with clubhouse, equipment, etc., should be turned over, in fee simple, to the Capital City club, which should pay for the same by a 5 per cent one-hundred-thousand-dollar bond issue, payable in twenty years. As the result of negotiations of the past few weeks the Brookhaven estates agreed to reduce the purchase amount from $100,000 to $90,000, on the same basis, and in addition agreed to give the club $10,000 in cash for the remodeling of the club building, or to undertake the remodeling of the building along the line of the plans and specifications submitted and approved—all costs for the remodeling, according to these plans and specifications, to be borne by the Brookhaven estates.

Agrees to Accept Offer.

The club last night agreed to make the payment of $90,000 in 5 per cent twenty-year bonds, and it authorized the governing committee to accept the offer of the Brookhaven estates to undertake at once the remodeling of the building according to the plans and specifications submitted—this in lieu of the alternative $10,000 offered for

TURKS WORSTED AT DARDANELLES

Information Reaching Athens Shows That Allies Are Advancing—Turks Burning Villages as They Retreat.

Paris, May 4.—(12:20 a. m.)—"The allies' operations against the Dardanelles are developing favorably, according to information reaching here from different sources," says Havas' Athens correspondent.

"Heavy fighting continues, in which the Turks are constantly being worsted. The guns of the fleet lend efficacious aid to the troops. The allies have occupied several villages which were in ruins. The Turks, it seems, burn all villages as they retire."

ALLIES ADVANCING TOWARD THE NARROWS.

London, May 3.—Dispatches from Mytilene say that the allies have occupied Maitos, on the Dardanelles, 22 miles south of the town of Gallipoli.

The British admiralty has not commented on these reports.

Unofficial dispatches agree that the allies are progressing toward the narrows under cover of the fire of their naval guns which are inflicting great damage on the Turkish defenses, including the reported total destruction of the town of Dardanelles.

SUCCESS CLAIMED BY THE TURKS.

Constantinople, May 3.—(Via Amsterdam and London.)—The Turkish war department today gave out the following official statement:

"In consequence of the attacks proceeding successfully for us the enemy has not the courage for attempting his position on the coast of the Gallipoli peninsula. The fire of our batteries directed against the enemy at Seddul Bahr shows good results."

The statement claims that the French battleship Henri IV. and the British battleship Vengeance have been damaged by shells from the guns of the Turkish forts, and it says that the Russian Black sea fleet demonstrated for an hour off the Bosphorus and then retired rapidly in a northerly direction.

SUBMARINES SINK SEVEN MORE SHIPS

Three Norwegian Ships and Two Swedish Vessels Destroyed by Germans—Two British Trawlers Sunk.

London, May 3.—The sinking of seven more vessels in the North sea by German submarines in their new campaign is reported. The Swedish steamer Ellida went to the bottom in less than three minutes after she was torpedoed, but the eighteen persons on board escaped. Trawlers reaching Aberdeen report that two vessels in a fishing fleet of 50 miles off that port were sunk yesterday.

The Norwegian steamer Lalla was sunk on Friday and the Norwegian steamer Baldwin was sunk on Sunday. The Norwegian steamer America was also torpedoed on Saturday and the Swedish schooner Elsa was sunk Sunday.

SMALL FREIGHTER SENT TO BOTTOM.

Copenhagen, May 3.—(Via London.) Norwegian steamer Lalla was sunk in the North sea on Friday by a German submarine. The crew was landed at Copenhagen today by the steamer Anna, which witnessed the sinking and at the request of the commander of the German submarine took the crew of the Lalla aboard.

The Lalla was a small freighter engaged in the North sea trade. Her tonnage was 445. She was last reported as arriving at Bergen on April 30.

CREW ALLOWED TO TAKE BOATS.

London, May 3.—The Norwegian steamer Baldwin was sunk by a German submarine in the North sea on Sunday.

The members of the crew, numbering seventeen men, were allowed to take to their boats. Today they landed at Leith.

Nine shots were fired into the Baldwin before she went down.

The Norwegian steamer Baldwin was of 698 tons net register and 231 feet long. Built in 1903, she was owned by Det Selmenske Rederi, of Thondhjem, Norway.

ELLIDA WENT DOWN IN THREE MINUTES.

London, May 3.—Lloyds exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen says the Swedish steamer Ellida, timber laden, from Helsingborg for Hull, has been torpedoed and sunk in the North sea by a German submarine. She went to the bottom in less than three minutes.

The sixteen men and two women on board the vessel barely had time to make their escape in one of the small boats. After drifting about for two hours they were picked up by a Danish schooner and landed at Lemvig, Denmark.

SUBMARINE AMUCK AMONG TRAWLERS.

Aberdeen, Scotland, May 3.—Trawlers making port today declare that a German submarine sunk two trawlers within 50 miles of Aberdeen Sunday.

The crews of the two vessels were successful in escaping in their small boats, and today they came into port.

Apparently the submarine ran amuck among the Aberdeen fishing fleet. In addition to sending two to the bottom, it chased three other trawlers for 20 miles. A patrol boat was seen approaching and the submarine submerged.

STEAMER AMERICA SUNK BY SUBMARINE.

Newcastle, England, May 3.—The Norwegian steamship America was tor-

Berlin and Vienna Officially Announce That the Entire Russian Center Has Been Crushed Along a Front of Many Miles in Western Galicia.

AUSTRO-GERMAN DRIVE MEANS TEMPORARY HALT TO THE RUSSIAN ADVANCE

In Fact, if the Berlin-Vienna Claims Are Borne Out, the Whole Russian Campaign in the Carpathians Will Be Seriously Affected—Comparative Quiet on Western Front.

London, May 3.—According to Berlin and Vienna, the German and Austrian armies have achieved a notable victory in west Galicia, smashing the entire Russian center along a front of many miles, or as the Berlin official statement puts it, across the whole western tip of Galicia, from near the Hungarian border to the point where the river Dunajec joins the Vistula, right at the frontier of Poland.

Though the 8,000 prisoners the Teutonic allies claim they have taken does not compare with the number which some of Field Marshal von Hindenburg's rushes netted him in the north, the achievement, if subsequent reports bear it out, is one that may at least temporary check to the Russians hammering their way westward since the fall of Przemysl.

Berlin is celebrating the victory tonight, though it is admitted flags have been flown before full details are at hand.

England and France make no claims to gains in the west, the British merely saying that the German attacks on Hill 60, in Flanders, have been beaten back. The French confirm this.

The Germans maintain they are pushing forward to the northwest of Ypres and toward St. Julien, which they captured after the attack following their first extensive use of gas, but with they were forced to yield under counter attacks.

GERMANS RAIDING BALTIC PROVINCES.

In the fighting in the Baltic provinces also Berlin finds cause to rejoice. Rejecting the Russian contention that it is only a sporadic cavalry raid, Berlin wireless comment received tonight says it seriously threatens the Russian right, and the fact that troops could be moved so far northeast before they encountered resistance is considered a reflection on the Russian intelligence system.

If the Austro-German contentions relative to the Galician situation are correct, in the opinion of some English military writers, it will mean that the whole Russian campaign in the Carpathians is seriously affected, making extremely precarious the position of the Russian troops pressing down the southern slopes toward the plains of Hungary.

The line between the Vistula and the Hungarian frontier was about 40 miles east of Cracow. The Austro-Germans have been defending it stubbornly ever since the beginning of the Carpathian fighting.

RUSSIAN REPORT VERY RETICENT.

Beyond the admission in the Petrograd official communication that a desperate battle has been raging since last Saturday night on the front from the lower Nida river to the Carpathian mountains, no further news is coming out concerning the fighting, in which both Berlin and Vienna claim a victory.

The reticence of the Russian official communication, though it may indicate that the battle is still unfinished, is considered in military circles here to give considerable color to the Teutonic claims, at least to the claim of Vienna, which does not place the victory so high as does the German communication.

If the Austro-German claims are correct, according to military observers the Russian right flank is in danger of envelopment, the Russian left flank is threatened by strong Austro-German forces and on the Stry-Munkacs line the position is so dangerous as to be likely to involve a general retreat.

RUSSIA ADMITS DESPERATE BATTLE.

Petrograd, May 3.—(Via London, May 4, 2:22 a. m.)—The following official communication was issued tonight:

"West of the Niemen, on May 2 the engagement continued along the upper reaches of the river Szesupa. On the evening of May 1 a battalion of the enemy attacked the village of Sosnia, near Ossowyetz, but was dispersed by the fire from the fortress.

"On the Bzura river important skirmishes occurred near the village of Mitrovitza.

"Since the evening of May 1, from the Lower Nida to the Carpathians, in the region of Gladycheff, an action of the greatest intensity developed. On the left bank of the Vistula, on the night of May 2 we repulsed strong enemy attacks.

"In the region of Tarnow and farther southward, the artillery fire attained great violence and fierce isolated combats took place.

"In the direction of Stry and southeast of Golouetsko, we captured Mount Makuvka and took 300 prisoners, including ten officers.

"On the Dniester on May 1, near Zale Szonyky, the enemy made two fruitless attacks.

"On the 1st our Black sea fleet bombarded the forts of the Bosphorus. The fire was very efficacious and caused great explosions and set fire to Fort Elmas. The Turkish batteries replied vigorously, but without result. We also destroyed a steamer with a cargo of coal and sank two large sailing boats."

RUSSIAN FRONT REPORTED BROKEN.

Berlin, May 3.—An important Austrian victory is announced in the communication issued today from German army headquarters. It says the Austrians have pierced and broken the entire Russian front in west Galicia.

The text of the official statement follows:

"In the western theater:

"Yesterday we successfully attacked in Flanders, northeast of the Poelcappelle-Ypres road, and took the farm of Portuin, southeast of St. Julien.

"In the Champagne district we inflicted considerable damage on the enemy's positions at Ourchen, Souain and Perthes by successful mine explosions.

"But in the Meuse and the Moselle there once only artillery duels.

"Last night the French made unsuccessful attempts to attack our position on the summit of Hartmans-Weilerkopf.

"A French flying machine landed yesterday at Hundlingen, west of Saargemund (in Lorraine). Both occupants were taken prisoners.

"A German airship squadron attacked the airship hangar and railway station at Metz yesterday apparently with good results.

"In the eastern theater:

"During further pursuit of the Russians who were fleeing in the direction of Riga, we yesterday captured four cannon and four machine guns. We took 1,700 prisoners south of Mitau, so that the total number of prisoners was increased to 3,200.

"The Russian attacks southeast of Kalwarya failed with heavy losses to the enemy. The Russians were driven back across the Skeainga. They left 250 prisoners in our hands.

"Northeast of Skierniewice the Russians also suffered a heavy defeat in which they lost a great number in killed and 100 men taken prisoners.

"In the southeastern theater:

"In the presence of the Austrian commander-in-chief, Field Marshal Archduke Frederick, and under the leadership of General Colonel von Mackensen, the allied troops yesterday after bitter fighting pierced everywhere and crushed the entire Russian front in west Galicia from the neighborhood of the Russian frontier to the junction of the Dunajec river with the Vistula.

"South of the enemy as succeeded in escaping are in hasty retreat towards the east, closely pursued by the allied troops. The trophies of the victory cannot yet even be approximately estimated."

The victory in western Galicia reported in the German official announcement would appear to be of notable significance.

From the junction of the Vistula with the Dunajec to the Hungarian frontier is about 60 miles. After the surrender of Przemysl, the Russian forces released from siege work there began moving south toward Uzsok pass and west toward Cracow.

Thus a great battle was being fought in western Galacia has been indicated in Berlin dispatches for several days.

Official dispatches from Petrograd, April 29, said the Austrians were concentrating in western Galicia, apparently for a determined offensive.

GREAT VICTORY, VIENNA REPORTS.

Vienna, May 3.—(Via London.)—The Austrian official statement issued today confirms the German reports of a big Austro-German victory along the entire front in west Galicia, and says that 8,000 Russian prisoners were captured.

The text of the statement follows:

"Austro-Hungarian and German forces yesterday attacked the fortified positions in West Galicia and repulsed the Russains along the entire front of Malastow, Gorlice, Gromik and north of these places.

"The Russians suffered severe losses. We captured 8,000 Russians and took a great number of cannon and machine guns. Simultaneously, we forced our way across the Dunajec river.

"On the Carpathian front, the Beskid situation has changed. In the wooded Carpathians we gained ground to the east of Kozlowka. We repulsed several counter-attacks with great slaughter, capturing several hundred Russians and taking three machine guns.

"To the north of Osmaloda, the enemy was thrown from several heights with heavy losses. The fighting in this region is progressing.

"On the Russian frontier, between the Pruth and the Dniester, there is nothing new to report."

BRITONS REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS.

London, May 3.—A British official statement today says:

"At 7 p. m., May 1, the Germans attacked Hill No. 60, southeast of Ypres, and yesterday evening they attacked in the neighborhood of St. Julien. These attacks were both repulsed. We lost no ground and we inflicted heavy casualties on the enemy in spite of the fact that he again used poisonous gases emitted both from tubes in the trenches and from especially manufactured shells.

"A German aeroplane yesterday afternoon was chased by one of our machines to within the vicinity of our trenches, and then brought down by our fire."

GERMANS USING POISONOUS GASES.

Paris, May 3.—The following official statement was issued by the war office tonight:

"There is nothing to report except the repulse of two German attacks last night—one against the British troops to the north of Ypres, and the other against the French to the west of Le Pretre."

The communication issued in the afternoon follows:

"The Germans yesterday made two attacks with asphyxiating gases. One was to the north of Ypres, near St. Julien, and the other was to the south of Ypres, near Hill No. 60. Neither one accomplished anything.

"There is nothing to report from the rest of the front."

ITALY TO PLUNGE INTO GREAT WAR

Washington Hears That Action Is Only Matter of Days—Italians Are Warned to Leave Austria.

Washington, May 3.—Advices reaching the United States government through official and unofficial channels within the last few days indicate that Italy's preparations clearly tend to her participation in the war at an early date.

Aside from her extensive military preparations and orders for war supplies, the expected public appearance of King Victor Emmanuel at the Garibaldi celebration in Rome Wednesday is regarded here as of much significance, and demonstrations then in favor of war would not be surprising. Heretofore all such outbreaks have been given no official sanction and have at times been repressed.

American diplomatists in Europe, some of whom are in touch with the Italian situation, believe Italy's decision now is only a matter of days, and arrangements already are being made to accommodate Italian interests should the emergency arise.

If Italy should enter the war it is understood she would ask the American embassies in Vienna, Berlin and Constantinople to care for her diplomatic interests. Italy now is the custodian in the Turkish capital of Russian interests, and Ambassador Morgenthau probably would have Petrograd's subjects and interests to care for.

The recent call to Rome of the Italian ambassadors accredited to Great Britain, France, Germany and Austria is taken to foreshadow Italy's final decision. Diplomatists here would not be surprised if the envoys to Germany and Austria did not return to their posts.

ITALIANS ASKED TO LEAVE AUSTRIA.

Udine, Italy, May 3.—(Via Paris.)—Italian consuls in Austria-Hungary are recommending that all Italians leave the country as soon as possible.

As a result of this warning Italian merchants, manufacturers and professional men are arriving today at Udine from points in Austria.

SUBMARINES SINK SEVEN MORE SHIPS

pedoed in the North sea on Saturday. The vessel sank within two hours.

The steamship America was largest of thirty-nine men, was picked up thirteen hours later by the Norwegian sailboat Sterling, and was landed at Newcastle today.

The America left Sunderland Saturday morning for Bergen.

The steamship America was larger than most of the vessels sunk by German submarines. Her tonnage was 2,505. Engaged in the trans-Atlantic trade, she left Philadelphia March 28 on her last trip from this country.

SWEDISH SCHOONER SUNK BY GERMANS.

Leith, Scotland, May 4.—(3:05 a. m.) The crew and five men of the Swedish schooner Elsa have been landed here. Their vessel, they say, was destroyed by the German submarine U-29 Sunday morning.

The Elsa, with a cargo of wood, was bound from Holdstadt to Granton, and was overtaken by the submarine 100 miles west of May island. The crew say they were given five minutes to quit the vessel, while the Germans then set on fire.

The crew was picked up by the steamer Serneho.

The crew of the Elsa must have read wrongly the number of the German submarine which they report sank their vessel, as the U-29 was sunk some time ago.

ATTACK ON SHIP WILL BE PROBED

Washington Defers Action About the Torpedoing of the Gulflight Until All the Facts Have Been Secured.

Washington, May 3.—Pending an official ivestigation of the circumstances of the attack on the American steamer Gulflight in the English channel, the United States will defer diplomatic representations as well as any pronouncement of policy.

Two messages were received today from American Consul Stephens, at Plymouth, England, reporting the Gulflight was torpedoed off the Scilly islands Saturday; that her captain died of heart failure and two sailors drowned.

Secretary Bryan said he would ask for a thorough and complete report from the consul, and would direct Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin, to make similar inquiry of the German government for such facts as it might have.

The secretary announced he did not wish to make any predictions as to the course of the American government's policy until all the facts were in its possession.

Indemnity to Be Demanded.

Officials were careful not to take for granted the truth of reports that a German torpedo struck the Gulflight. Should the investigation bear out dispatches claiming that a German submarine made the attack, the United States probably will demand an indemnity sufficient to cover the losses incurred by the ship and compensation to the families of the victims. It is thought probable that an expression of formal regret also will be requested. Any diplomatic action of the United States probably will be based on the treaty of 1828 with Prussia, of which the German government has taken cognizance as binding in the present day, having agreed to pay for the loss of the American ship Frye under it.

If the attack on the Gulflight was made by a German submarine with or without warning, officials hold that Germany is in the position of having violated the following article of the treaty of 1828.

"To prevent entirely all disorder and violence, it is stipulated that when the vessels of the neutral party, sailing without convoy, shall be met by any vessels of war, public or private, of the other party such vessel of war shall not send more than two or three men in their boat on board the said neutral vessel to examine her passports and documents. And all persons belonging to any vessel of war, public or private, who shall molest or insult in any manner whatever, the people, vessels or effects of the other party, shall be responsible in their persons and property for damages and interest, sufficient security for which shall be given by all commanders of private armed vessels before they are commissioned."

"Germany Expected to Make Amends."

While the seriousness of the attack upon the Gulflight was a matter of discussion and speculation in official quarters generally today, belief was held by high officials that the German government, if responsible, would not seek to justify the act, but would promptly agree to make amends. It was pointed out that until there is proof of any deliberate intention on the part of the German submarine commanders to attack American vessels, the experience of the Gulflight must be regarded as an accident, though one for which ample reparation would be demanded.

President Wilson communicated by Secretary Bryan and state department officials, who immediately began an investigation of law pertaining to the case. Their unanimous opinion was that from reports thus far received there was no excuse for the attack, for even if the vessels could be accused of carrying contraband, she should have been visited and searched and her crew transferred to a place of safety before the cargo could be confiscated.

Von Bernstorff Silent.

Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, said he had received no information other than the news dispatches, and in the absence of word from Berlin he declined to comment.

The United States, some time ago, in a note to Germany in reply to the German proclamation of a war zone around the British isles and Ireland, said that it would hold Germany "to a strict accountability" for loss of American lives or vessels.

Secretary Bryan tonight laid before President Wilson preliminary consular reports telling of the torpedoing of the Gulflight. Following his conference with the president he reiterated his statement that no policy in the matter would be decided on until more complete information was received.

Atlanta Girl Held In Macon; Charged With Forging Name

Macon, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—Miss Hazel Dell Beverly, a pretty young manicurist from Atlanta, was arrested here today by United States Postoffice Inspector Knight on a charge of forging another's name to a money order order.

Tearfully, Miss Beverly admitted her guilt when arraigned before United States Commissioner W. B. Martin, Jr., and she was bound over to await the action of the United States grand jury for the Northern district of Georgia, in Atlanta, under bond of $500, which was put up for her by Alexander H. Dewberry, of Macon.

Miss Beverly was living in the same house with Miss Florence Moore in Atlanta recently when she secured a money order which was payable to Miss Moore and, forging the latter's name to it, secured the money.

4-Year-Old Daughter Of Col. Robt. J. Travis Killed by Street Car

Savannah, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—Margaret Elizabeth, the 4-year-old daughter of Colonel Robert J. Travis, one of the best known lawyers in Georgia, was run over and fatally injured by a street car tonight. She died in Telfair hospital an hour after the accident. The child was crossing the street to a store, running in front of the car. She was badly mangled.

Now comes a new method of filing

For years and years—ever since the first filing cabinet was made—there has been endless discussion as to the superiority of the Alphabetic and Numeric methods of filing. Each had—and has—its advocates; each its critics.

Now comes a new method of filing that combines the advantages of both the old methods; and has other advantages of its own.

It is called the "Automatic Index." Because it indexes itself, automatically.

With the L. B. Automatic Index it is easy to file letters correctly. It provides a check against errors. That, perhaps, is the best thing about it—the feature that sets it apart from any and all other filing methods.

"Vertical Filing" sent on request—the best book on filing ever written.

AN EASY WAY TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master stroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol, and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its regenerative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place, and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 30 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Jacobs' Pharmacy and other leading druggists of Atlanta and vicinity have it, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution—While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.—(adv.)

PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS MEAN BAD BLOOD

People who have impure or impoverished blood should be careful to take only a vegetable and temperance remedy such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is and has been for over 40 years.

The first day you start to take this reliable medicine, impure germs and accumulations begin to separate in the blood and are then expelled through the eliminative organs.

In place of the impurities, the arteries and veins gradually get fresh vitalized blood and the action of this good blood on the skin means that pimples, boils, carbuncles, eczema, rash, acne and all skin blemishes will disappear. Then you must remember that when the blood is right, the liver, stomach, bowels and kidneys become healthy, active and vigorous and you will have no more trouble with indigestion, backache, headache and constipation.

Get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to-day at any medicine dealers; it is a powerful blood purifier, so penetrating that it even gets at the impure deposits in the joints and carries them out of the system.

Depend upon this grand remedy to give you the kind of blood that makes the skin clear, the mind alert, the vision keener and puts ambition and energy into the entire body. You won't be disappointed. For free advice or free booklet on blood, write Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.—(adv.)

GUS MONROE SHOT BY ARTHUR REAGAN

After Apparently Accidental Killing of Youthful Companion, Reagan Disappears.

Buchanan, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—Gus Monroe, aged about 12 years, was shot and almost instantly killed by Arthur Reagan in a boat on the Tallapoosa river, 6 miles west of Buchanan, Saturday night at about 8 o'clock.

Although the coroner's jury found that young Monroe came to his death at the hands of Reagan, caused by the accidental explosion of a shotgun, it was ordered that a warrant be sworn out for Reagan, and that he be placed under arrest. Reagan cannot be found, and the sheriff has hunted vigorously for him without any results. The sudden disappearance of Reagan cannot be accounted for.

The shooting occurred in a boat on the Tallapoosa river, and the evidence, as brought out in the coroner's inquest, shows that the dead boy and the accused, together with several other companions, were out for a night's fishing. Young Neal Barry, a cousin of the dead lad, was oaring the boat, but, becoming exhausted, asked Gus Monroe if he would relieve him. Munroe readily assented, and as he had a shotgun clasped in his hands he asked Reagan, who was near him, to hold it. Reagan was in the act of taking the gun from Monroe's hands when it exploded, the entire load taking effect in Munroe's right side, tearing a gaping wound.

He was carried to the home of his grandfather, N. S. Barry, with whom he lived, but died in a few minutes after he reached there.

CONFESSES BIGAMY, BUT IS NOT LIABLE TO LAW IN GEORGIA

The court of appeals, in a decision handed down on Monday, held that a man may marry in Georgia and also marry in another state without laying himself liable to prosecution in Georgia upon a charge of bigamy.

The case was appealed from the city court of Leesburg.

J. H. Braeber, according to the decision, married a woman in Georgia and later married another woman in Florida. He pleaded guilty in a Georgia superior court to a charge of bigamy and was sentenced. He then appealed to the city court of Leesburg for a writ of habeas corpus against Warden J. M. McBride, of the detention camp, and the writ was granted on the ground that the jurisdiction of the charge of bigamy lay with a Florida court. McBride appealed and lost.

WILL KEEP TURNER FROM TEMPTATION BY YEAR IN PRISON

Sent to prison to meditate upon his sin and to be kept from temptation was the penalty exacted from F. J. Turner, Jr., an insurance agent, when he was arraigned before Judge Andy Calhoun Monday morning on a charge of passing worthless checks.

He had been arrested while serving probation for a similar offense. Friends sought to intercede, and pleaded with the judge to "give him another chance," but in a short address to court and prisoner, Judge Calhoun ruled that the youth should go to prison for twelve months to meditate over his sins, keep away from temptation and work out his future salvation.

ACCOUNT OF ACCIDENT DECLARED INCORRECT

In reference to the accident to Mrs. Hood M. Paschal Saturday, the Georgia Railway and Power company has made the following statement:

"Mrs. Hood Paschal alighted from an outgoing car Saturday evening at Hilliard street crossing on Houston street. Her mother preceded her to the ground. Mrs. Paschal had one foot on the ground and the other on the step when her ankle turned and she sat down on the pavement. The car was standing perfectly still. Mrs. Paschal did not blame the company at the time. She did not fall from the car platform to the street, she did not lean against the car door, it was fully and not partially open—all contrary to published statements. The company was not at fault in any particular whatever."

Transfer Trains Exempt.

Washington, May 3.—The supreme court today held that the federal safety appliance acts apply to "transfer" trains moving from different yards in or near big cities over main tracks.

MORE AUTHORITY ASKED FOR PROBATION OFFICER

Wants Legal Right to Enforce the Collection of Alimony in City.

Judge George E. Johnson has sent to the general council a communication with the recommendation that an ordinance be drawn and adopted giving the probation department more legal authority in collecting alimony from persons on probation. In the past the recorder has had the probation officer collect the alimony and turn it over to those for whom it was intended. The communication has been referred to the council committee on ordinances and resolutions and an ordinance will probably be submitted at the next meeting of council containing the recommendations of Judge Johnson.

On April 28 Judge Johnson issued an order annulling, after May 1 the collection of alimony from persons under probation, and also ordered the discontinuance of Class B probationers. This class includes those placed on probation and not being taken before the recorder on any specific charges.

Class B probationers are forced to pay a weekly or monthly allowance from their salaries to their wives and families. This system was operated by Judge Johnson November 1, 1914, and down to May 1, 1915, the probation officers collected $2,631.27. Previous to that time, they collected in about five years approximately $19,000.

"The practice is too important to be neglected and we ought to place it on a safe legal status," said Judge Johnson. "There are many people who would suffer were it not for the activities of the department along this line."

Judge Johnson has instructed Probation Officer Coogler to compel Class B probationers to pay the alimony, but in the future they pay it direct to those whom it is due and file a receipt for each sum with the probation officer. In the past the officer has collected the money personally.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Dazie Dazzleman and Zeke Williams, otherwise known as Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barry, have been here before, are here this week and are welcome whenever they feel like hiking Atlanta-ward again. Such was the conclusion reached yesterday afternoon, when "the rube and the actress" had completed their act at the Forsyth theater.

The "rube" never needs to worry about his audience. From the time he comes to the stage door, carrying a floral offering for the girl who sang to him in the theater, he is certain of attention. They are with him every minute of the time, willing to laugh at everything he says, and with him every time he grins. When finally the actress tells him she is married, then kisses him in sympathy, only to find that he has won a bet as a result, they are glad the man from the country found things so easy in the big town.

Gus Van and Joe Schenck, billed as the "Pennant-winning battery of Songland," have fine voices and songs that are well selected. Their appearance Monday was the signal for applause.

Presenting "A Holland Romance," a miniature opera, William Pruette and company are very pleasing. The staging is excellent and the singing good. "I Want What I Want When I Want It," sung by Pruette, is one of the features.

The Five Sullys are presenting the same act offered here on their last appearance, but their finale went far better Monday afternoon than ever before. This year they are using "Tipperary Mary," and this song, with a dance that followed, brought them back on the stage a number of times.

A number of excellent illusions are shown by "Carter the mysterious," who opens and closes the performance, his "lion's bride" feature being the most spectacular. A girl is tossed in a cage, the beast is whisked out of sight and as the maid is taken to safety out comes another lion, which proves to be Carter clad in the skin of "The King of Beasts." Down goes the curtain, and when it comes up the lion is again angrily pacing up and down in his cell. The majority of Carter's mysteries" have been seen in Atlanta a number of times before, however.

Genevieve Warner, harpist, and Charlotte Francis, violinist, complete the bill, which is a great improvement over the program offered last week.

ROBERT MORAN.

"The Woman."

(At the Grand.)

Jesse L. Lasky and David Belasco, two of the dramatic world's most renowned producers, present the film version of "The Woman," that stirring drama which had such a tremendous run on Broadway under the direction of Belasco. "The Woman" is being offered for the last time today and tonight at the Grand theater, where it drew great crowds Monday at all performances. "The Woman" is the alluring story of politics, intrigue, riches and ambition, revolving around the heroism of a young telephone operator in her efforts to rescue a headstrong young reformer from the meshes of an unscrupulous woman, a tool in the control of machine politicians who have sought to ruin the reformer. On Wednesday and Thursday comes the second Vitagraph-Selig-Lubin-Essanay release, "The Eagle's Nest," Edwin Arden's great play, presenting the masterful Arden for the first time on the screen.

All Germs Ordered To Beat it!—Git!

Searching Influence of a Remedy That Works Wonders.

The introduction of S. S. S. is at once a command to blood impurities to find a way out.

And what are blood impurities? They may be the hypersecretions found in the mucous linings of the body; they may be acid accumulations known as rheumatism; they may be boils, pimples, eczema, acne and stubborn, indolent sores.

But examined closely, they are all germs that have gotten the upper hand and it requires the flushing influence of S. S. S. to drive them out. And out they go when S. S. S. begins to circulate in the blood. It only requires five minutes to begin this influence, for it is a fact that in this limited time S. S. S. may be traced in the urine, in the perspiration, in the effluence from the lungs to show that it is at work. Germs, mind you, are of various kinds, but all are foreign to health and S. S. S. is no respecter of destructive germs, it drives them all out, of whatsoever name they go by. Just get a bottle of S. S. S. of any druggist and soon you will observe a decided change. And if yours is a stubborn case, write to the Medical Adviser, care of The Swift Specific Co., 107 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. He is a regular physician, proud of his name by virtue of his distinguished family and is recognized as a foremost physician on his own merit.

CHURCH OF EPIPHANY WILL NOT BE SOLD

Offers Made for the Valuable Property Turned Down at Call Meeting.

Although substantial offers had been made for the property of the Church of the Epiphany in Inman Park, they were turned down at the annual congregational meeting held at the call of the wardens and vestrymen Monday evening, and all action on the question of sale was indefinitely deferred.

It is stated that the sentimental attachment for the building, which is a landmark in this locality, prompted this action. The structure is located at the intersection of Euclid, Moreland and Cleburne avenues, and is well known as "the little church at the corner."

The following church officials were elected for the ensuing year: John M. Miller, senior warden; H. W. Anderson, junior warden; the eight vestrymen are, John T. Pugh, James G. Thrower, R. A. Palmer, H. S. Bartlett, D. M. Bonney, James T. Miller, R. M. Cobb and Dr. C. B. Mott.

MRS. E. A. GLOVER DIES AT HOME IN EDGEFIELD

J. C. Hunter received a wire yesterday notifying him of the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. E. A. Glover, of Nashville. Mrs. Glover was Miss Laura Abney, of Edgefield, S. C. She is survived by her husband, two sons and three daughters, the eldest Mrs. Barrett Phinizy, of Athens, Ga.; by one sister, Mrs. J. C. Hunter, of Atlanta, and a brother, John Abney, of New York.

All her relations were at her bedside at the time of her death, which followed a long illness. Mrs. Glover was a splendid type of Christian womanhood, beloved by all who knew her. She visited Atlanta several years ago as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hunter, and her daughter, Mrs. Phinizy.

Funeral of Miss DeWolf.

Columbus, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—The remains of Miss Kate DeWolf, who died in Atlanta Saturday afternoon, were brought to Columbus this morning and funeral services were conducted by Dr. L. R. Christie, pastor of the First Baptist church, interment being in Linwood cemetery. The deceased was the daughter of the late Colonel and Mrs. Walter S. DeWolf.

Automobile Coats in a Sale Today

At $3.50, $4.95 & $7.50

Worth About as Much More

In other words, they are very near half price.

They came to us Saturday, as things rarely do, underpriced ahead of their season, as a result of a fortunate purchase made in New York last week.

A fine host of them, offering a most satisfactory choice as to style and material.

Palm Beach cloths and various weights and kinds of linens—the heavy ramie sort and the finer weaves—tans, natural color and grays; belted and plain styles.

Some Six Smart Styles of

Palm Beach Suits at $8.75 to $15

Choose them by the twos or threes. They are so coolish and splendid for our climate, and so inexpensive that certainly it makes for summer comfort and economy to buy these by the twos and threes.

Being made of the original and genuine Palm Beach cloth—Mulford's—they are thoroughly washable.

Very plain, mannish, tailored styles. Belted styles, with the belt placed high or low. Norfolk styles, styles a bit trimmed with colored embroidery on collar and around the bottom of the coat.

A Woman Will Know Their Worth

A Display of Separate Skirts

Foreshadowing Their Great Popularity

Coming vogues cast their shadows in Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company's.

Separate skirts are favored for spring and summer in an unusual way—perhaps because makers have done so well in developing smart styles; perhaps because the waists are so charming this season; but perhapser because of both these facts—as we stand prepared to show.

New silk, woolen and wash skirts that impress one with their novelty of style, have just been unpacked.

TAFFETAS AT $5.75 TO $15.00, in black and navy, that show the wonderful ways that plaits can be used—accordion plaits, clusters of knife plaits, great box plaits.

SILK POPLINS and silk failles at $10.00 to $15.00, with crushed girdles attached, yoked effects, emphasizing the vogue of the full, flaring skirt.

CHUDDA CLOTHS AT $5.75 TO $10 that seem to wear always and that sheds dust like linen.

WOOLEN SERGES AND POPLINS, $5.00 TO $8.50, trim, tailored styles and plaited and yoked styles, one after another—these in navy and black—with them are the black-and-white checked skirts that are decidedly smart.

A World of Wash Skirts

Piques, Bedford cords, gabardines, golfines, reps, at $1.25 to $7.50. Very, severely plain, touched with pearl buttons; showing pockets—no trouble to choose several to your liking.

It is worthy of note that we have gathered, in the silk, the woolen and the wash skirts, great quantities of large sizes and small sizes.

Continuous Grand Opera

for those who have a talking machine in their home.

And here at Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s you have the privilege of choosing from the three makes that lead—

The Victrola,
The Columbia Grafanola,
The Sonora.

Hear all of them side by side and then choose.

Miss Berry Tells the Story Of Her Mountain School

The feature of the meeting of the Martha Berry circle yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Arkwright, "Pinebloom," in Druid Hills, was the presence of Miss Berry, the founder of the Martha Berry school, its promoter and guardian angel, and an address made by her with stereopticon views.

The meeting opened with the reading of annual reports by officers and chairmen and then followed the address by Miss Berry. With stereopticon views she showed first the beauties of the mountainous country in which the school centers; then groups of the people of the mountain, the type of boys and girls who come to the school and finally the way they appear on leaving the school and their subsequent achievement.

Miss Berry's story is always a beautiful theme—her interest first in the children who came to the cabin Sunday school on her father's estate; finally the beginning of the school. Then follows the inspiring growth of the institution; her faithful work for it; her going north and promoting interest in it; the organization of Martha Berry circles and the securing of an endowment of $100,000; the continued growth of the school and the adding to it of the dormitory classes and facilities for educating mountain girls, and finally the school regarded as a model of its kind.

The everyday life at the school, the bringing together of the academic and industrial training and the preparation of the boy and girl for life make a story romantic as well as inspiring.

Following the address made by Miss Berry, Miss Patterson, a member of the faculty, explained many parts of the curriculum and the pedagogic phases of the school.

A beautiful reception completed the interesting occasion, Mrs. Arkwright being assisted in entertaining by her lovely young daughter, Miss Dorothy Arkwright, and a group of young girls.

Miss Berry is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. Bulow Campbell.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES ALL HER LIFE

But Miss Ayres Got a 'Beautiful Complexion' at a Cost of Only $2.00.

Nov. 23, 1914—"All my life my face was covered completely with a mass of pimples, blackheads and blotches. I spent a lot of money on numerous remedies and treatments without success and no relief at all. I tried so many things that I was afraid my case could not be cured. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap seemed to do me good right from the first. I used two jars of Resinol Ointment and some Resinol Soap, the total cost being only $2.00, and this completely cured my case. My skin is without a blemish and I am the possessor of a beautiful complexion." (Signed) Mabell Ayres, Stone Mountain, Va. Every druggist sells Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment.

Miss Sterling's Recital.

Mrs. W. C. Spiker will give the first of a series of pupils' recitals at her home today at 5 o'clock. The friends of Miss Janet Sterling will be Mrs. Spiker's guests at this time, when Miss Sterling will be presented in a beautiful program. She will be assisted in interpretive dancing by Miss Nora Sterling. Miss Alexia Sterling will play the violin numbers and Mrs. Alex Sterling will be at the piano.

The following program will be given: Reading, "The Happy Prince," Wilde—Janet Sterling.

Dance, "Morn," Porgynt Suite, Gregg—Janet Sterling.

Intermezzo, "Cavalleria Rusticana," Mascagni—Alexia Sterling.

Dance, the Secret, Gautier—Nora Sterling.

Dance, "Anitra's Dance," Grieg—Janet Sterling.

Serenade, "Bodina"—Alexia Sterling.

Dance, waltz, Gregg—Janet Sterling.

Dance, "Badinage," Herbert—Janet and Nora Sterling.

Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Suffet and Miss Eugenia Wagner, of Minneapolis, entertained at dinner at Druid Hills club last evening. A basket of pink sweet peas decorated the table, and other pretty details were in pink.

The guests were Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman, Mrs. Noel, of Nashville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Broyles, Miss Louise Broyles and Mr. W. J. Franklin.

Mrs. Candler Entertains.

Mrs. John S. Candler entertained the Round Dozen club, of Marietta, delightfully yesterday at luncheon at Druid Hills Golf club. The table was placed in the palm room, and decorated with sweetpeas. Marking the guests' places were miniature girls in dainty costumes, each holding a tiny basket filled with sweetpeas.

Besides the club members the extra guests were: Miss Catherine Charlton, of Savannah; Miss Cora Brown and Miss Laura Margaret Hoppe, of Marietta; Miss Martha McRee and Miss Alite Candler.

Yaarab Patrol Dance.

A dance will be given by the Yaarab Patrol on Wednesday evening, May 5, at 9 o'clock, at the Druid Hills Golf club.

Afternoon Musical.

Mrs. Hugh Richardson will entertain on Friday afternoon at home in compliment to Miss Elinor Castle, of East Orange, N. J., the guest of Miss Adrienne Battery.

The feature of the afternoon will be a joint recital by Miss Castle, who is a singer of delightful attainment, and Mr. Hugh L. Hodgson, the distinguished young pianist, who comes from Athens for the occasion.

Mr. Hodgson has only recently returned from New York, where he gave a successful concert with Miss Belle Gottschalk, the attraction filling the Sandbox theater.

The program he will present with Miss Castle will be one of artistic pleasure, and a congenial company will be invited to meet them and hear them.

For Mrs. Watts.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Sciple entertained eight guests at luncheon yesterday at Druid Hills Golf club for Mrs. Harry E. Watts, of Baltimore.

For Mrs. Myers.

Mrs. Albert Spalding, Jr., will entertain at bridge next Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. J. A. Myers, of Charleston, S. C., the guest of Mrs. B. M. Boykin.

Mrs. Julia Singleton will entertain informally at luncheon today, and Mrs. Robert L. Turman will entertain at a family dinner party Wednesday for Mrs. Myers.

Darden-Sasser.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Darden announce the marriage of their sister, Mary Ellen, to Mr. George Sasser, the ceremony having been performed by Rev. Father Guinan at noon Monday in the presence of the immediate family.

The bride wore a becoming coat suit of dark blue faille and a large black hat. Her flowers were a corsage bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Sasser left immediately after the ceremony on a bridal trip, and will be at home to their friends at 107 Ponce de Leon place after May 15.

Children's Ball Planned.

The children's ball, to be given at the Georgian Terrace the evening of May 15, will be a beautiful and spectacular occasion to be planned, directed and enjoyed entirely by the young people themselves. The dancing will take place in the lounge and palm room, and the broad side porches and every detail will be marked by taste and pleasure.

Llorens-Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Turner announce the marriage of their daughter, Ethel Llorens, to Mr. E. B. Harrison, of Jacksonville, Fla., the marriage taking place Sunday, April 25, at the Sacred Heart church. Their home will be in Jacksonville.

Lawn Party.

The piano committee of the Junior Civic League of College Park, High school will entertain on the lawn of Mrs. Lena H. Cox, 707 Boulevard, College Park, on Saturday afternoon. There will be games, music and refreshments for the children from 4 to 6 o'clock, and for adults from 8 to 10.

The proceeds will be used to pay for the piano in the school auditorium. The public cordially invited.

Home Garden Meeting.

The Atlanta Home Garden league, branch No. 2, held its regular monthly meeting on Friday, April 30, at 7:30 o'clock p. m. at the Ann Wallace library.

The new chairman, Mrs. H. E. Stockbridge, was present for the registration of vegetables for The Constitution loving cup, which was awarded to Louis Ingram for the second time.

Helen Mayer won the money prize for the finest radishes.

Lena Cox will hold the cup for the best winter garden.

Clara Belle Dodd had fine tomato plants, and wants to sell some for transplanting.

Elizabeth Powell had fine corn.

Lena Cox had especially fine turnips and salad.

Money prizes will be given at the next two meetings for specimens of the finest tomato plants and onions.

Dinner-Dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Brandon will give a small dinner-dance Tuesday in compliment to Mrs. Blair Flandrau, of St. Paul, the guest of Judge and Mrs. Don A. Pardee.

To Mrs. Phelan.

Mrs. Ulric Atkinson, Mrs. Ernest Dallis and Mrs. J. W. Goldsmith, Jr., will entertain at an afternoon reception at the Piedmont Driving club Friday, the 14th, in compliment to Mrs. Malcolm Graham Phelan.

They will invite to meet her their married women friends.

Dance for Seminary Girls.

This evening the young ladies of Washington seminary will be given a dance by the cadets of Georgia Military academy, who are encamped at Lakewood. This is an annual dance, and is eagerly anticipated by the young ladies and cadets.

To Mrs. Flandrau.

Mrs. Albert Howell, Jr., will entertain today at two tables of bridge in compliment to Mrs. Don A. Pardee's guest, Mrs. Blair Flandrau.

To Miss Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman will entertain at dinner tonight at home in compliment to Miss Isabel Robinson.

Afternoon Bridge.

Mrs. Richard Congdon and Miss Mazie Thurston will entertain at bridge this afternoon in compliment to Miss Louise Black and to Mrs. H. B. Scott's guest, Miss Annie Blinn, of Birmingham.

To Visitors.

In compliment to Miss Elinor Castle, of East Orange, and Miss Helen Johnson, of Chattanooga, guests of Miss Adrienne Battery, Mrs. George B. Pendleton will entertain at the tea-dance Wednesday at the Driving club.

Miss Louise Hawkins will entertain at luncheon Wednesday. Miss Sarah Cowles will entertain one afternoon at tea at home, and a party will be given tonight at the Capital City club dinner-dance.

Astle-Wilson.

One of the most attractive weddings of the season took place last evening at 665 North Boulevard, when Miss Emily Louise Astle and Mr. Thomas Leslie Wilson were united in marriage by Dr. Wilmer, at the bride's home.

The parlors were decorated with Queen Anne's lace and smilax.

The bride was gowned in an imported lace creation with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

Mrs. Wilson is an attractive young woman, formerly from Illinois, whose education was completed at the University of Wisconsin.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Wilson, of Evansville, Ind., and is also a alumnus of the University of Wisconsin.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. George M. Wilson, mother of the groom, of Evansville, Ind., and Mr. J. C. Astle, of Momence, Ill., the father of the bride; also Miss Ruth A. Peck, a cousin of the groom's, from Palmetto, Fla., who was a classmate of the bride and groom.

After the wedding ceremony a delicious luncheon was served. Mrs. Walker assisted in the festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will be at home in their new apartments after May 15 at 665 North Boulevard.

Parent-Teacher Association

The Parent-Teacher Association of Tenth Street school will meet this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. This is an important meeting as the election of officers for next year takes place. Dr. Dunbar Roy will give an address to mothers and teachers. All mothers who are interested are invited to hear him.

For Mrs. Cannon.

Mrs. John F. Glenn gave a small bridge party yesterday morning at the Driving club in compliment to Mrs. Martin Cannon, of Concord, N. C., the guest of Mrs. George Forrester.

The Misses Nutting will entertain at bridge Wednesday morning and Mrs. Edward Van-Winkle at the tea-dance Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Hattie D. Cole will entertain Thursday morning for Mrs. Cannon and Mrs. Nash Broyles Thursday afternoon at bridge at home.

Dancing and Golfing to Open Athletic Club's Country Club

The most interesting social event of the week will be the informal opening of the beautiful new country house of the Atlanta Athletic club at Chattahoochee Lake Saturday afternoon and evening.

There will be music from 5 until 12 o'clock, dancing in the ballroom and on the terrace, and in the afternoon a golf tournament for men.

The formal opening will take place two weeks later, Saturday afternoon, the 22d, from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Plans now being made for the summer at East Lake promise a delightful season, a happy inauguration of which will be the informal opening this week.

The informal receiving party will include officers and directors and their wives.

Mr. Asa G. Candler, Jr., is president; Mr. John W. Bachman, vice president; Messrs. Preston S. Arkwright, Scott Hudson, William K. Stone, directors.

Mr. Thomas B. Paine is chairman of the house committee of the country club, his committee including Mr. Preston Arkwright and Mr. Howard Geldert. Mr. Harry L. Dix is chairman of the house committee of the town house.

Mr. Scott Hudson is chairman of the country club grounds committee; Mr. W. R. Tichenor, of the golf committee, and Mr. Carleton T. Smith, of the tennis committee.

May Day Is Celebrated By Girls at Agnes Scott

Before an audience of more than 600 people the Agnes Scott students who participated in the annual May day festivities yesterday afternoon on the college campus presented an artistic and entertaining program that delighted the large crowd who attended the celebration.

The young ladies marched out in procession to music, and clad in their vari-colored costumes presented a picturesque sight. Miss Gertrude Amundsen, a student of Agnes Scott, was the reader for the afternoon, and her interpretation of Emerson's "May Day," Longfellow's "Spring" and other appropriate poems was in every way artistic.

The first part of the program was a pantomime representing the banishment of winter, with sleet, snow, wind and rain and the return of spring, the girls being costumed as the different seasons. Spring was represented by Miss Jeanette Victor, who gave a beautiful symbolic dance, "The Spirit of Spring." A graceful and classic dance was "The Song of the Robin," given by three young girls, who dance for joy upon hearing the robin singing. Especially effective was the dance of a body.

the "Daffodils," by twelve girls dressed in yellow and green costumes representing daffodils.

The latter part of the program was given over to the May Queen. After the reading of Corinna's "Maying," by Miss Amundsen, the village girls bring offerings of flowers to the throne, and then unite in an English country dance. At the sound of the bugle the Queen and her attendants approach singing and dancing in gala mood.

The May Queen was Miss Ray Harrison, who made a lovely picture in her flowing robes and crown of flowers, and seated under a canopy of beautiful flowers.

There followed artistic dances before the Queen, including a stately "Minuet," by ladies of the court; a unique dance, called the "Morris Dance," by girls dressed in green costumes and waving large red bandannas, and last came the ever-popular "Maypole" dance, always a pretty feature of May day festivities.

Years of honor were reserved for the seniors of the Atlanta and Decatur Girls' High schools, who were invited as special guests and came in a body.

THE ART OF MARY ANTIN

"Mary Antin combines the wisdom of a sage with all the dramatic art of Alla Nazimova," said Mrs. Percival Sneed, librarian of Atlanta's Carnegie library, in reference to the former's lecture here Thursday night.

"I heard her speak at a meeting of the American Library association when she thrilled her audience with the power of her thought and her dramatic expression of it."

Her book, "The Promised Land," is read in all library schools as containing a just presentation of the particular themese she chooses to study and exploit. She is still under thirty years of age, though she has spoken on the platform with the wisest men of the land in their discussions of the most vital of national problems. She is a graduate of the public schools of Boston; of the Latin high school there, and later of Barnard college. She has written two novels and contributes to leading magazines.

She is a student of the public institutions which train for national life, and she stresses the public school system as the test of American faith. That will be the subject of her lecture here Thursday night at the Atlanta theater. Reserved seats may be secured at the box office.

The lecture is under the auspices of the Council of Jewish Women.

Mrs. Peel to Give Garden Party

Mrs. W. L. Peel will entertain at an al fresco on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in compliment to the 375 members of the Joseph Habersham chapter.

The ladies have been at work on a very unique plan for adding to their building fund, and more than three hundred reports will be made showing what each member has done. These reports will be exceedingly brief, interesting and amusing, after which the young ladies of the chapter will serve frappe on the lawn.

Every member is cordially invited to be present.

For Mrs. Darby.

Mrs. R. C. Darby entertained yesterday at the Druid Hills Golf club thirty guests at bridge, for Mrs. Rufus Darby, of Washington, D. C., who is visiting here.

Mrs. W. W. Blackman will entertain sixteen guests this afternoon at the Druid Hills Golf club for Mrs. Rufus Darby.

MONTH OF APRIL DRYEST ON RECORD

Except that it had more rainless days and a shorter degree of rainfall than any other April in the history of the local weather bureau, the April just passed was not, after all, such an extremely exceptional month.

Two dry days for April numbered twenty-one. On each of these Atlanta and territory basked in sunshine. There were only eight moist days in the entire month. The degree of rainfall did not exceed 0.35. The nearest approach to this record was in 1896, when the rainfall for the month dropped as low as 0.58.

Continued fair weather is the prediction for today and tomorrow, with no present prospects for rain for an indefinite period.

HE DID NOT LEAVE COMPANY STRANDED, ASSERTS MANAGER

Zeno Perkins, who is manager of the De Soto theater, on Whitehall street, Monday denied he left town Saturday night, leaving his company stranded.

Perkins states that he left the theater to get lunch about half an hour before closing time. He was a little late in getting back, and the company had left, reporting to the police that he had left town. He was in touch with the company on Sunday morning, and arranged settlement with them.

Woodward Will Oppose Commission to Decide Crematory Controversy

Mayor Woodward is going to oppose the plan to have a commission settle the crematory controversy. That much he told a reporter for The Constitution Monday morning.

Judge Newman suggested about a week ago that a commission might be appointed which would settle the crematory matter without any further litigation and court costs. The city attorneys and the attorneys for the New York Destructor company have considered the matter and are to let the judge hear from them soon.

In the meantime the mayor has looked into the matter and states that he does not favor any such plan.

$1,700 Appropriated For Proposed Branch Of Carnegie Library

Council Monday adopted a resolution providing for an annual appropriation of $1,700 for the maintenance of the proposed new branch Carnegie library to be erected shortly on the site recently purchased at the corner of Georgia and Capital avenues.

In introducing the resolution Councilman Farlinger stated that the Carnegie corporation, of New York city, had agreed to furnish $17,000 for construction of the building if the city would guarantee an annual appropriation for its upkeep.

Plans for the building have already been accepted and as soon as the contract is, which will probably be next week, actual work will begin.

Woman's Label League To Give Benefit Ball Wednesday at Taft Hall

The Woman's Label league, the auxiliary of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, will give a benefit ball Wednesday night, in Taft hall. The purpose of the ball is to raise funds with which to send a delegate from the local league to the annual convention of the International Woman's Label league, which meets this year in Youngstown, Ohio, June 15, 16 and 17.

It has been the custom of the local league to give a ball for several years. They have been highly enjoyable occasions and largely attended.

CRITICISM OF MILITIA RESENTED BY AUGUSTA

Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association Cites North Carolina Report.

Following the criticism of conditions at the militia encampment at Augusta, in 1914, which criticisms were contained in the annual report of Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash, of Georgia, the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, of Augusta, have protested vigorously that the criticism was not altogether warranted, and cite the report of Adjutant General Lawrence W. Young, of North Carolina, whose militia was also present, in support of Augusta's position. Here are some excerpts from the North Carolina report which are at variance with the Georgia report:

"The location of Camp Wheeler, near Augusta, could not, in my judgment, be improved upon from every standpoint, or from any standpoint as a mobilization camp or concentration camp for the troops of the ninth militia division. The scenery is beautiful, the roads well kept, the soil pervious yet firm, and the terrain for maneuver purposes could not be excelled. The water facilities, both for bathing and drinking, were all that could be wished, and the sanitary condition of the camp most excellent.

"Too much praise cannot be given Major Paige, of the medical department, U. S. army, for his instruction both of the line officers of the regiment and the medical officers attached to the regiment, and his instructive work in sanitation and camp hygiene.

"Company H, Twenty-ninth infantry, U. S army, was at the camp under command of Captain William H. Waldron. The example this company set to the enlisted men of the regiment formed a very large and instructive part of the encampment. By the invitation of Captain Waldron the officers of the regiment were permitted to inspect the company prior to our departure, and it is believed that this example of camp life among the regulars will be exceedingly beneficial to the officers of the regiment.

"I am glad to report that no disturbances of any serious nature occurred to mar the pleasure of the encampment. Minor infractions of discipline were promptly corrected and punished by extra duty imposed by the company commanders, under the direction and control of myself.

"In all my travels, and they have been considerable, it has never been my pleasure to meet a more hospitable or charming set of people, more kind or more courteous than those dwelling in the city of Augusta. It would take a book to tell of the many courtesies and genuine hospitality extended to the soldiers and the officers of this regiment, without respect to rank or condition. It is a pleasure to say that this hospitality was not invaded by the soldiers of North Carolina, and I am glad to report that, in my opinion, the regiment will be welcomed back at any time by the city of Augusta.

"Colonel John S. Mallory, Twenty-ninth infantry, U. S. A., in command of the camp, at all times offered the most kindly and courteous consideration to myself personally and to the officers of the regiment. It was a great pleasure to serve under this distinguished gentleman."

COMMITTEE IS NAMED ON SETTLEMENT HOME

Plans for the reorganizing of the Settlement home were referred to a special committee at a meeting of the Evangelical association Monday morning.

The committee will be composed of two members of each Protestant denomination in the city and it will undertake to effect a permanent organization of the home, which will seek to take care of and shelter young girls who may be in unfortunate circumstances and without employment.

Rev. A. M. Hughlett, chairman of the association, appointed the following committee to make a report on a closer co-operation with the Associated Charities and other charitable associations and societies:

W. Woods White, J. H. Gordon, W. C. Shaeffer, J. C. Logan, John J. Eagan, W. R. Hendrix, J. S. Lyons, R. E. Gribben and G. R. Buford.

CHILDREN PRESENT AT SESSION MONDAY OF GENERAL COUNCIL

Among the interested spectators at the meeting of general council Monday were members of the sixth grade of the North Avenue school and their teacher, Miss Emma K. McDonald. They were present at the invitation of Councilman Claude Ashley, who not only is very fond of children, but who devotes much of his time to looking after the interests of North Avenue school.

Frequently Mr. Ashley makes talks before the classes at this school and recently he delivered a series of talks there on such subjects as "Heat," "Light," "Electricity" and kindred topics. He dealt with facts not in the children's textbooks, but which he learned from personal experience.

The children seemed to take great interest in the proceedings of council, an institution about which they had so often heard and knew so little.

GOOD-BYE—to the High Priced WOOLEN SUITS

BECAUSE

Nothing, to our minds, affords more pleasure in the mercantile field than selling real fine, high-grade clothing.

To those who have been brought up in the atmosphere and refinement which surrounds a store like this—catering to the classes who insist on the best to be had—has been one of the joys of our existence. We love it.

There is something positively fascinating in the high-priced suits. To finger the beautiful fabrics and to feel the swish of the luxurious silk linings as the customer glides into the coat and to note the expression of satisfaction on his face while he shares the pleasure with you is one of the joys, or maybe the penalties, of doing a high-class suit business.

Until recently, or about the time war was declared in Europe, men came to us freely and willingly paid the price. Apparently they did it gladly, for they seemed to appreciate the fact that they were getting value received in satisfaction and fit, whether they did in the wear or not, for it is a recognized fact that the most expensive garments do not always render the greatest service.

Just about this time men began to retrench—to curtail in their buying.

A great many of our high-priced customers concluded they could pull through the season without buying any new clothing—brush up and clean up the old ones. Others who were not so well provided with last season's clothes found it necessary to replenish, but lots of these folks had about a $20 limit.

The man accustomed to $40 and $45 suit seemed to be mighty well satisfied with those we had at $25. And those who had formerly paid from $25 to $35 could imagine the most beautiful things in our $15 and $18 suits.

AND IN THE MEANTIME our stock of real fine suits was not diminishing—seemed to grow. Began to look as if we would carry over the greater part of it into another season—and last year's clothes are just about as valuable to us in proportion as a faded flower is to the florist.

Mind you, this is not a pessimistic view. On the other hand, we're inclined to credit ourselves with an optimistic attitude. We begin to feel as if the people were right—that they're recognizing some cold facts—coming into their own, as it were.

We can't attribute this condition to a scarcity of money. If you entertain such an idea as that you want to read the bank statements—refer to their deposits—and especially the savings deposits.

As a matter of fact, business is pretty good—it's good with most everybody, but somehow or other we see, or at least we think we see, the HANDWRITING in so far as high-priced suits are concerned, and we propose to get from under.

This is our feeling in the matter. It is this belief that prompts us to take such drastic action, and as a result you are going to buy the finest clothing you have ever worn at the same prices you're accustomed to pay for the mediocre.

This announcement is our answer to the present situation—WE'RE THROUGH WITH THE HIGH-PRICED SUIT BUSINESS. GOOD-BYE!

We're through—with the high-priced woolen suit business.

The economy wave, which is sweeping this country, has educated the people to the fact that they've been paying too much for their clothing. Not too much, maybe, for the character of clothes they've been buying, but more than is necessary to obtain good style, good looks and good service.

You can well imagine what a big pill it is for us to swallow after being engaged these many years in handling only the very finest of clothing.

It does get next to one's pride to be forced to admit it, but sentiment is one thing and business a thousand.

Conditions do not warrant the immense stock of high-grade suits we have on hand to-day.

People expect more—they demand more intrinsic worth for their money than they're accustomed to getting. This condition looks very plain to us, and in the future we propose to see that they have it, so—

Beginning Tuesday Morning, May 4th, We Will Cut the Very Life Out of Every Woolen Suit in This Store

Suits we've sold heretofore at $35 and $40, are reduced in this sale to $24

Suits that have been selling before at $27.50 and $30, can now be had at $21

Suits which were $20 to $25 have been reduced for this sale to $18

It isn't merely a little handful of fine clothing you will find in this stock, but the biggest assortment of real high-grade, high-priced garments we have ever shown at this season of the year. New styles, handsome fabrics, beautiful patterns.

$15 and $18 Suits Reduced to $14

While we are principally interested in disposing of the high-priced clothing, have concluded, inasmuch as these suits are woolen, to include our popular priced numbers, of which we show a very beautiful range of patterns and styles. The reduction on these grades is, of course, not in proportion to the more expensive suits, but considering their desirability the price quoted is most exceptional for this time of year.

ATLANTA REAL ESTATE.

There is nothing more indicative of the substantial underlying foundations of a community than the maintenance of its real estate values, regardless of what hits, Atlanta has proven on every occasion of money panic or business depression that, regardless of market activity, her real estate values always stick.

Current transactions in real estate, although not numerous, are strikingly indicative of this fact. In no instance where property of consequence has changed hands has it shown decline in value; on the other hand, there are frequent instances of appreciation in spite of conditions. It is true perhaps in a few isolated cases that there have been small losses recorded in real estate transactions; but each case of this kind, traced down, will be found due to extenuating circumstances, rather than speculation on no narrow margin rather than investment which seeks advantage in gradual but steady growth.

Atlanta real estate values have maintained themselves not only through the European war period, but through a period of severe depression which preceded it. In fact, in June, 1914, the real estate interests began to feel they were just about to get out of the woods, and everybody felt good over it. Then came the European conflict and smashed business calculations in every possible direction. These two successive periods of depression have, perhaps, subjected the Atlanta real estate market to the severest test it has ever known. If anything could have undermined values this combination would have done it.

But if any one believes there has been any undermining, let him start out to hunt for a bargain—to get a good piece of Atlanta property for less than the present holder paid for it. There have been bargain hunters in the Atlanta real estate market, and there are some of them in it today; but few of them have gathered any comfort from their search.

It has been proven that market inactivity does not mean decline in value when it comes to Atlanta dirt. The value is there and it sticks because it is Atlanta. Why? The best answer might be found in pointing again to such successes as Atlanta's past week of grand opera and her recent $225,000 subscription to the Southeastern fair. Atlantans believe in Atlanta and are ever ready to back their belief. That's the reason, and there could not be a better one.

The renewal of activity in the Atlanta real estate market is another sign of good business. The upward trend has come after one of the longest known periods of depression, and it is headed in the right direction to stay. Atlanta real estate, as well as Atlanta business, must reap the benefit of the splendid prosperity which will be the south's this fall and in the years that are just ahead.

THE TARIFF AND POLITICS.

Just now when the national mind is least upon the tariff because tariff-making has ceased for a period, and business conditions have adjusted themselves to the new arrangement, it is perhaps not amiss to consider the practicability of removing tariff-making altogether from the realm of politics.

The tariff law is strictly a business proposition. Its primary purpose is to raise revenue for the support of government. The extent to which revenue may be reasonably raised by a duty upon any particular article is a question which affects both the consuming public and the industry involved in its manufacture. It would seem, therefore, that a plan which would effectively remove the tariff from the influence of politics of the selfish sort must at least insure business against the periodical unrest that comes from tariff tinkering.

President James J. Hill, of the Great Northern railroad, in a recent address to the American Newspaper Publishers' association, told them that they could perform a great service to the country if they would, regardless of party prejudices, disapprove the customary method of tariff making, which usually involves a two years' period of doubt and unrest, and insist upon tariff legislation being held down only to such changes as are essential to meet new business conditions. Speaking of tariff reconstruction, Mr. Hill said:

> Experience has shown that every general revision of the tariff, whether for better or for worse, means at least two years of doubt, hesitation, bad business. The eternal seesaw of tariff ups and downs costs the country more than it would to live quietly, even under a bad tariff system. Some day, perhaps, the idea of taking the tariff out of politics and confiding its regulation to a commission of experts will be realized.

President Hill is pretty nearly right in saying that it perhaps costs the country more to undergo a two years' agitation period than to live on under what may be considered a bad tariff.

Whether the tariff commission, as proposed several years ago, or some other system, is the right remedy, there ought to be comparatively little difficulty in devising a method that would at least eliminate periodic tariff agitation. If it is difficult to reach agreement upon the subject of a tariff commission and the extent of authority which should be given it, congress could if it would begin by ceasing to deal with the tariff measure as a whole and making it subject to amendment in specific instances where changed business conditions require it.

No administration, no congress, could do a better work for the country than to take the tariff effectively from political control and put it on the substantial business pedestal upon which it belongs.

READY TO HELP BUSINESS.

Real and substantial co-operation with big business and trade extension is promised by the newly-created federal trade commission. This word is brought from Washington by Mr. Alex W. Smith, of this city, who has just returned from a conference between that body and the federal trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The time has come, not only for a better understanding, but for co-operation of the right sort between government and business. We may assume that big business as at one time conducted needed a lesson; whether properly administered in every instance or not, it was administered, and if, on occasion, it went to radical extreme, it was the fault of the extremist in ignoring and violating the law. The effect has been to bring about wholesome conditions in the relations between big business and the public; business now knows the law; knows that it will be held to as strict an accountability as the individual and is seeking at every point to follow it.

It is not only timely and proper, therefore, that encouragement should replace antagonism from the standpoint of business interests themselves, but from the national viewpoint. There has been enough, too much, of discouragement the last few months in the business world, due largely to the European conflict; and for the general good, knowing that business is inclined to put itself and keep itself in accord with the law, it should be both government duty and government pleasure to afford it every possible co-operation and encouragement.

Happily, this is the attitude of the federal trade commission as expressed in the conference with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Trade encouragement must come before trade expansion. Without the first there is little hope for the other; and right now, with the European war at its height, we have the best opportunity we have ever had in our lives for building up our foreign trade.

In co-operating with big business and seeking to extend our trade in foreign countries, the federal commission will not even in remote degree lay itself liable to the condoning of violation of law. Business not only understands law, but is in better accord with it today than it has ever been; it understands the necessity for keeping itself so. Conditions are ripe, therefore, for every encouragement and co-operation that can be given for constructive commercial building both at home and abroad; and the federal trade commission is an instrument which seems most happily in accord with the times.

Substantial government co-operation means not only more and better business, but more employment both in the supplying of raw material and in the making of the finished product. It means, too, a bigger trade balance in our favor, and, in fact, every condition that contributes to an abundant and plentiful prosperity.

This is not the first time that similar assurance has come out of Washington. Its repetition will serve to strengthen underlying foundations, and the whole country will feel that it is building more effectively and more permanently than it has ever built before.

No doubt the kaiser is very grateful to former Senator Beveridge for going all the way to Europe to give him a write-up.

The Storm-Cellar in Billville.

"The 'dry' peoples is doin' their best to put the only club we have out of business," says the Billville Banner, 'and we don't care whether they succeed or not. Because why? When prohibition first broke out in Georgia the wise and forethoughted of us provided ourselves with storm-cellars—so to speak, and many a barrel is snugly hidden away in them, even unto this day. Only last Sunday, while on the way to meeting, our preacher fell into what he thought was a dry well, but it turned out to be one o' them same all-providin' storm-cellars. After he was pulled out the high-sheriff levied on what he found there, but there wasn't enough to set the river on fire. We are free to admit we have our own private storm-cellar, with underground passages to it, and no mortal man other than ourself; so if all the clubs were down and out we still could tunnel our way to a good time and here's looking-at-you!

Just to Be Living.

The Bentztown Bard sings of joy of life in his Baltimore Sun column:

"Rains are raining summer,
Sun is shining song,
The yellow-throated drummer
Is drumming all day long,
A path runs up to glory,
And one runs unto town;
And love is the story
That softly flutters down.
The moon is spreading wonder
On water and on wold,
And life goes weaving yonder
Her filaments of gold.
The earth is fine for seeing,
The heart with bliss,
Oh, what a happy being
To be alive like this!"

Trade Commission Will Co-operate With Business For Return of Prosperity

Alex W. Smith has just returned from Washington, where he attended a joint conference of the Federal Trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States with the Federal Trade commission.

Mr. Smith stated to The Constitution that at this joint conference a general discussion of the functions and proposed activities of the commission was had, but the most obvious and gratifying feature of the conference was the spirit of the commission, as disclosed by the expressions of every member of it, in approaching the very important duties with which the act clothes them. Continuing, Mr. Smith said:

"Business men generally will concede without argument that, in the past, cordial co-operation between the regulating powers of the government and the business interests sought to be regulated has been conspicuous by its absence. Whatever may be the explanation of this condition in the past—and there are many explanations at hand—it is most gratifying to know that, so far as the trade commission is concerned, cordial co-operation is thus far the one positive attitude manifested by the members of the commission. The importance of this fact cannot be overestimated. It completely transforms the psychology of the situation between the government and 'big business' and its beneficial effect will, in my judgment, be immediate and pronounced.

"The next most obvious and important thing developed at this conference was the unanimity with which the members of the commission and the committee concurred in the proposition to stimulate and co-ordinate the great industrial army of the United States for the purpose of invading and capturing foreign trade.

"The conditions now existing, and attributable to the European war, are such that the merchants and manufacturers of the United States have an opportunity unprecedented in all history for securing control of a large percentage of commerce which has hitherto gone to Europe. I believe I can safely say that the Federal Trade commission will bear a relation to this movement analogous to that which the general staff of a great army bears to its efficiency and fighting strength. I confidently predict that when this general staff has massed its brigades and army corps to attack and capture the fields of commerce in South America, in China, and elsewhere, with the wonderful resources of this great country behind it, our commercial invasion of foreign lands may be expected to demonstrate anew that 'Peace hath her victories no less renowned than War.'"

Savannah Man Urges Old Capital Route

Editor Constitution: The Dixie highway commissioners should reconsider the route line from Atlanta south to come via Savannah, for the Atlanta-Milledgeville-Savannah-Darien line is the shortest possible route from Atlanta to Jacksonville with the exception of the one via Waycross, and it is not necessary for me to undertake to tell you anything about the country south of Waycross between the Altamaha and Withlacoochee rivers, as, during bad weather, it is necessary for one to take a boat to get around near the Okefenoke swamp. Further than that, after you cross the Withlacoochee river, going to Jacksonville by that route, you encounter very sandy road and a very thinly settled section. It will be ages before people in that territory will ever be able to build a road that can be used by the traveling public with any degree of satisfaction, while the road from Atlanta to Savannah is now almost a perfect driveway, and from here to Darien is being rapidly pushed in the same shape, as Chatham county has only recently signed a contract with Bryan and Liberty counties to complete the road in the same manner that they completed the road through Effingham county going north.

Florida has spent many thousands of dollars in building a road from Jacksonville to Savannah with the result that we now have a line from Atlanta to Jacksonville via Savannah that is 50 per cent better than any other route that could possibly be traveled. It is true there are several rivers to cross, but the Altamaha river now has the most modern mode of transportation across by means of ferry service at Darien, and the Satilla and St. Marys rivers are tide-water rivers, and their rise and fall depends on the tide. There is perfect ferry service provided at the point where these rivers are crossed.

Also, it must be remembered that the route traversed from Atlanta to Savannah is truly historic and the scenery cannot be excelled in this section. The route passes the Old Dutch church, in Effingham county; old Midway church, in Liberty county (where the government has recently appropriated $20,000 in erecting a monument); the birthplace of Oliver Wendell Holmes, and a great many other equally interesting places.

This route would follow the line of Sherman's famous march to the sea through Georgia, which fact alone would attract many. It would be interesting, also, from the fact that you would pass through all of capitals of Georgia: Savannah, the capital of the colony; Louisville, Milledgeville and then Atlanta.

The Cry of Hungary.

Editor Constitution: I am enclosing some verses written by Thomas Holley Chivers, the Georgia poet, which, in view of the European war now involving Hungary, and of the recently revived attention to the poetry and career of Chivers, may be of interest to some of your readers.

The verses were published in 1850, about the time of the revolution in Hungary followed by the subjugation of that power by Austria assisted by Russia. A copy of the poems is preserved in a scrap-book once belonging to Dr. Chivers, but now the property of a gentleman in Baltimore.

May not the last stanza prove a prophesy to be fulfilled at the close of the present great European conflict?

LOUISE THREATTE HODGES.

THE CRY OF HUNGARY.

By Thomas Holley Chivers, M. D.

We asked for justice—we asked in meekness—
Our wishes were few, yet we asked them in vain;
We cried out for bread, but red scorpions were granted,
And commands, from the tyrant, to tighten our chain.
Break, break every link in the chain!

Then the heroes of Hungary, with voices of thunder,
Hurled back the gross insult thus treacherously given,
Swearing never to rest till they rent them asunder,
As the lightning the oak, by the vengeance of Heaven.
Fall down the dread vengeance of Heaven!

But rather than Hungary should have compensation
For the loss of her freedom, her sons slain in fight,
The tyrant of Austria then sold all his nation,
By selling himself to the dark Muscovite.
Down, down with the dark Muscovite!

To that God-chosen land far beyond the deep ocean,
That Canaan of countries, the land of the free;
From this dark Nile of night we will go to that Goshen,
And eat the ripe fruit plucked from Liberty's tree.
Oh, on to that land of the free!

SQUELCHING THE CROAKERS; HOW ATLANTA SPIRIT DROWNED OUT CRY OF OPERA PESSIMISTS

By Isma Dooly.

Any pessimism there may have been in Atlanta about opera as an annual institution received a signal blow last week in the triumph of the season artistically, socially—and financially. It was about the financial end there was the greatest apprehension among the chronic croakers, and it was just that apprehension that brought out the Atlanta spirit in its full vigor, crowning the city with laurels and assuring her that she has the right to claim herself as being the musical center of the south.

But the croakers deserved credit for one thing, and that is the vigor with which they worked up to Friday afternoon. When performance after performance had drawn a crowd, their last chance lay in the fact that tickets for "The Love of Three Kings" had not been selling. The croak reached the newspaper offices early in the week, and extra force was put on publicity for that beautiful opera which had thrilled metropolitan audiences, and was the vehicle through which Lucrezia Bori had reached her first world fame.

The word was systematically carried by the croakers that the opera would not take in Atlanta; "it was heavy;" "so few people in it," but—finally—truth and art prevailed; world critics were quoted in the press; and the opera stars themselves brought the message of the greatness of the opera. The result was that Friday night assembled an audience so thrilled with the greatness and beauty of the opera and its interpretation, they could scarcely discuss it next day without emotional expression.

Starring Rumors.

Then there was a faint effort to circulate the rumor that Miss Farrar would fill that she would not appear in "Sans-Gene," but when she appeared in an opera box at the Friday night performance a perfect picture of health, life and vitality, and exhibited herself early that she might rest for her great triumph of the next evening, the report was killed as quickly as if an editor's blue pencil had passed over the story of it.

A most diligent croaker the early part of the week was the one who could not buy a ticket to go to opera and nobody offered to dead-head him) went down to the Auditorium-Armory, looked in the window, counted the vacant seats, turned and spread the news as well as he could that despite what the papers said, there were innumerable vacant seats, and that financially there was no hope; that the guarantors would be touched this time!

And then the feline sisters of the croaker colony—those who did not go to opera because it was hard times, etc., but who did not go because it would hurt their minds to have to concentrate on anything which holds as grand an interest as does opera. He also knew the private characters and lives of the artists that they would have forgotten to raise their umbrellas if a shower of rain had fallen. One of the stars would have had to be sixty years old to have accumulated all the conquests and wrecked families accredited to her, yet her youthful face bore not a line of care nor a trace of dissipation, nor did her carefree spirit and glorious voice indicate anything but that she had been attending to her business which was to take the best care of her voice and use it to make a living.

Those Who Helped.

In the beginning it was natural that men of affairs knowing the blow war had dealt certain business activities should have wondered whether Atlanta could risk the venture of opera, when no other city in the country save New York, had. Yet these when they saw the demand for it, and saw the readiness of the guarantors to do their part, threw their doubt aside, came in, and pulled for the victory so decisively won in the opera season. There was not a guarantor who, if he had told the truth, did not believe he would have to pay a percentage of the amount for which he signed. But with the signature went the good will that carried the day.

Though at first the sale of season tickets was not so large, when the sale of single performance tickets went on the real popularity of the opera spirit was proven. People not able to get all, selected the operas they wanted. There were whole families in attendance in some cases. The music teacher who could go but once selected her favorite, because she must have a taste of the great songstress. The shop girl who had saved her money was there in a pretty muslin gown, and the man who had found it hard to live this year had managed to go and take his best girl. Many who had not at first bought season tickets found themselves at last buying seats for every performance.

"What I see that has struck me realize that opera is an annual event here is the number of people from all over the south who have come almost incog," said a citizen from outside of Atlanta. "They go and tell me that

"They want opera and nothing else, they will tell you when reproached because they have not announced something else, and they just came quietly and are enjoying all the performances with no participation in the social part."

"The value of the opera season as I see it this year," continued the same man, "is that its influence has extended. People who never came before came this year, and those in the boxes and the promenade were but a part of the representation of the most prominent people socially from all over the south. They were everywhere in every part of the house, and they will be here next yar.

The Humorous Croakers.

COUNCIL SCHOOL PROBE COMMITTEE WILL HOLD MEETING THIS WEEK

Chairman Edgar Dunlap, of the general council school probe committee, will call a meeting of the entire committee this week to compile the data on school conditions secured by the several committees, and to name a date when the entire committee will inspect the four high schools.

One of the most important matters to come before the committee will be that of the proposed consolidation of the high schools into one big central high school to be operated on the coeducational plan. Councilman Claude Ashley, member of the committee, has proposed this plan and will make a recommendation to council that steps be taken to establish such an institution.

Will Report to Council.

The detailed report of the committee, with recommendations, will be submitted to the general council to be transmitted to the finance committee to be used as a guide in making up the school appropriations in the June money sheet.

A special school committee from the Atlanta Federation of Trades, of which J. M. Shearer is chairman, has completed its work and will meet on Wednesday of next week to compile its report to the federation. This report will later be submitted to council.

Other organizations of the city are taking a keen interest in the school situation since the agitation began by the Atlanta Women's School Improvement association, among them being the Ad Men's club, which Mrs. R. M. Walker, president of the improvement association, addressed on the subject and outlined some of the lines of work of the organization.

Ad Men's Indorsement.

The ad men have given their indorsement of the work and unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

"Whereas, The Ad Men's club, of Atlanta, has heard from Mrs. R. M. Walker, the plain, unvarnished truth of the existing conditions relating to the conditions of Atlanta's public school system, and

"Whereas, Said conditions are deplorable and are having an ill effect upon the children attending said schools, and

"Whereas, The facilities conducive to a normal development and education of Atlanta's citizens are woefully lacking in many respects, and

"Whereas, The children of the majority of the schools are being discriminated against in that they are not receiving schools superior in equipment and surroundings, and

"Whereas, The Ad Men's club, of Atlanta, firmly believes in just and equal consideration being shown each and every citizen and his family, therefore

"Be it resolved, That the Ad Men's club, of Atlanta, thanks Mrs. Walker for her remarkable, exposition of the facts in this matter, which she so ably enabled to assemble only after long, unselfish and painstaking labor, and approves her splendid work, and be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented Mrs. Walker and also be sent the press and a copy spread upon the minutes of this club.

(Signed) Ben Anderson (chairman committee), Lindsey Hopkins, Julian V. Boehm, W. W. Orr, W. H. Smith."

UNUSUAL INTEREST IS BEING SHOWN IN GEORGIA CHAMBER AUTO TOUR

Many of the plans for the automobile tour to be conducted May 22 under the auspices of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce were changed yesterday at an enthusiastic luncheon meeting of the chamber held in the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce cafe. The meeting was presided over by President Charles J. Haden and W. J. Dabney, general chairman of the tour committee.

The itinerary of the tour was changed to run via Newnan, LaGrange and Columbus to Americus because of the intense interest manifested in this section, and also by going this route it would avoid returning any part of the way over the same route as the original tour itinerary contemplated.

Those present at the luncheon were Charles J. Haden, W. J. Dabney, George W. Hanson, Ben Lee Crew, Edward Young Clarke, W. E. Richards, T. R. Gentry, M. F. Hollahan, Dan G. Hughes, Charles D. Hurt and Claude D. McKinney, and a number of others, who took an active part in the conference following the luncheon.

Great Interest Shown.

W. J. Dabney, chairman of the general committee in charge of the tour, stated to those present: "I have never seen more interest in any project. It is quite evident that the people of Atlanta and north Georgia who have automobiles are eager to go into middle and south Georgia and see this great section of Georgia at a time when it is at its best. There are many also who are anxious to be shown in the motion picture which is to be taken at the Brooks county convention, where it is announced that about fifteen thousand people will be on hand, and the tourists from north Georgia will head the parade on the opening day of the convention."

Owing to the greatly increased interest in the tour it was decided at the luncheon conference to add several new committees to the tour arrangements, name an official pacemaker and place not less than fifty men on the general committee, of which W. J. Dabney is chairman.

In discussing the matter at the close of the luncheon, Charles J. Haden said:

"The interest in the tour has greatly surprised all connected with the affair. From all parts of north and middle Georgia, in addition to Atlanta, letters are coming into the Georgia Chamber of Commerce office asking for a place in the tour. The number of cars which will be entered having gone so far beyond our expectations, it has been decided to enter all cars by number, which number they will take in the tour and keep through to its completion.

File Applications at Once.

"Those who desire to enter the tour, therefore, are requested to file their applications at once. No entry fee is to be charged, and all tourists will have complete arrangements made for their accommodation at the various towns along the route in advance.

"We are receiving letters indicating that the tourists are going to be given a rousing reception at all towns visited, and the carrying of a repair car, with full equipment, at the end of the tour will remove many of the unpleasant features of most tours of this kind."

GRIFFIN MEETING BOOSTS HIGHWAY

Representatives of Griffin, Jonesboro, Hampton, Sunny Side, McDonough, Milner, Orchard Hill and Barnesville Organize.

Griffin, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—At a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting in the city hall in Griffin this morning leading citizens of Griffin, Jonesboro, Hampton, Sunny Side, McDonough, Orchard Hill, Milner and Barnesville organized for the purpose of making the road from Atlanta to Macon, via Jonesboro and Griffin, a link of the proposed great north and south Dixie highway. It was one of the most businesslike meetings ever held in this city and one of the most successful, as a result of which the claims of the cities and towns along the route will unquestionably receive the careful attention of the highway commissioners at Chattanooga.

Hon. Julius W. Gresham, president of the Griffin board of trade, and ex-mayor of Griffin, was made temporary chairman of the meeting, and Secretary W. B. Royster, of the local trade organization, was made temporary secretary. Later they were made permanent officers.

Object of Meeting.

Mr. Gresham stated the object of the meeting to be clear and forceful manner, which was to secure the highway through the counties and home sites of Jonesboro, Clayton county, Griffin, in Spalding county; the western portion of Henry county; Barnesville, in Pike county, and Forsyth in Monroe county. The requirements were to put the roads along the route in good condition and guarantee their maintenance the year round and to supply maps and routes to the commissioners in Chattanooga this month. It was up to the five counties of Clayton, Henry, Spalding, Pike and Monroe to secure the route of the highway.

All the counties were represented at the meeting except Monroe, which is on this route, and also on the proposed route by way of McDonough and Indian Spring.

Chairman H. V. Kell, of the Spalding county board of commissioners, was the first speaker, and assured the meeting that Spalding would put the roads along the route in this county in perfect condition and maintain them. He said Spalding would provide fourteen miles of the best roads that could be found along the entire proposed route of the highway.

Chairman E. P. Camp, of the Clayton county board of commissioners, stated they had already graded the road from Fulton county to a point below Jonesboro, and gave assurance that Clayton county could be depended upon to do its part in keeping the roadway in condition. A. C. Blalock, of Jonesboro, also stated Clayton county could be depended upon to keep the route of the highway through Clayton in good condition. He stated also that the route via Jonesboro and Griffin was the logical route. As is well known, it is one of the oldest roads in the state, and is familiar to every artoist who has ever traveled in north and middle Georgia. It lies along a ridge which forms a natural watershed through the heart of the state, and runs close to a country rich in historic interest. For a great length of the way the drainage is from one side of the ridge, flows into the Gulf of Mexico, while from the other side it flows into the Atlantic ocean. Some of the oldest and most beautiful towns in the state are situated along the route, as well as many more modern towns, which have come into existence during the past few decades. Thousands of visitors each year visit the Georgia experiment station, near Griffin, while tourists by the hundreds annually visit the scene of the battle of Jonesboro, one of the bloodiest conflicts of the civil war was fought, and near which are buried hundreds of federal and confederate soldiers.

Henry County Helps.

Professor J. L. Chapman, of Henry county, foreman of the last grand jury which passed resolutions to find out what the county officials should aid in securing the highway through that county, was one of the speakers. He said that while the commissioners of Henry seemed to favor the route into Barnesville, McDonough and Jackson, its way of McDonough and Jackson, its citizens could be depended upon to lend their every effort to secure the route through the western part of the county. Henry county is in perfect condition to keep its roadway in perfection, and the citizens are willing to come up and volunteer to give the money out of their own pockets to do it, if necessary. They were enthusiastic over the subject, and would assure six miles of the best roads it was possible to obtain.

"Old Pike proposes to go home and do what you gentlemen want us to do," shouted C. O. Simmers, of Barnesville, one of the most enthusiastic good roads advocates in Georgia. "I have been advocates in Georgia. "I have been building this great highway for five years," said Mr. Simmers. "I have walked Judge Daniel and other officials up at night and advocated them nearly to death. I have done the same thing in Jonesboro, Hampton and other towns. Pike is already building good roads and will lend every effort to the movement to have Jonesboro and Griffin made a link on the highway." Mr. Simmers made the statement on the opposition route, via McDonough, there was not a railroad or telephone within 30 miles, while places for a distance of 30 miles, while places for a distance of 30 miles, while on the Griffin-Jonesboro route autoists would scarcely ever be out of the reach of a telephone or railroad station.

Value of Highway.

Dr. J. P. Thurman, of Barnesville, in telling of the highway's importance, declared that the building of the Dixie road through an undeveloped section could not possibly mean less than the securing of the great highway. He said we must build good roads and secure this highway. He was one of the most earnest speakers on the floor and was roundly cheered by the large audience.

W. H. Mitchell, of Barnesville, stated that the chairman of the board of county commissioners of Monroe had assured him that Monroe county would have the best roadway of any of the towns along the highway, it made no difference whether it went through McDonough or through Jonesboro and Griffin.

After the delivery of the addresses and a thorough discussion of the subject before the meeting, a special committee from each of the counties interested was appointed for the purpose of presenting the claims for the Griffin-Jonesboro route in a proper manner, the chairman of each county committee to be members of a special committee of which President Gresham is chairman.

Committees Named.

The committees follow:

Spalding—H. V. Kell, chairman; R. F. Strickland, E. C. Smith, Joe A. Rice and Lou M. Castro.

Clayton—A. C. Blalock, chairman; E. P. Camp, W. R. Lester, O. J. Coogler, L. Z. Gilbert, A. G. McDonald and J. R. Minter.

Henry—W. M. Harris, chairman; A. J. Henderson, J. L. Chapman, A. B. Mitcham and Robert L. Henderson.

Pike—C. O. Summers, chairman; Roy Martin, W. H. Mitchell, T. J. Berry and W. C. Jordan.

The general committee was instructed to have J. B. McCrary, of Atlanta, make a complete map of the route from Clayton through Monroe county.

Resolutions were passed providing that the committee take up with Central of Georgia railway officials the question of their co-operation in this matter of trying to secure the highway.

Resolutions were also prepared for presentation to the commissioners of the counties named tomorrow for adoption, giving their assurance that they will properly and maintain the kind of roadway desired.

Resolutions were also prepared showing what had been done and what would be done to secure the highway via Griffin and Jonesboro, which will be ready for submission at the meeting to be held in Chattanooga on May 20, when the route of the highway will be finally settled.

The advocates of the Griffin route as a link of the great highway feel that not only does the road have every physical advantage, but that from a historic standpoint and from the points of interest to the northern tourists it is the logical route. They believe also that the chances for the highway coming this way are exceedingly bright when the true facts become known and the claims of the route are properly presented.

LIVELY RACE BEGINS FOR COUNCIL PLACE TO SUCCEED MASON

With the resignation Monday of Councilman Claude Mason from the tenth ward, a lively race for the vacancy for the tenth began between Professor Augustus T. Peacock, of the Georgia Tech faculty, and George P. Dickson, former member of the police commission.

The general council suspended the rules and sent for the mayor to hold the election Monday, but the mayor sent the reply that he was busy with other matters and could not be present. On motion of Alderman Kelly council voted to hold an adjourned session Thursday afternoon preceding the next meeting of the aldermanic board to elect Mason's successor.

Councilman Charles B. Alverson, of the first ward, has formally announced that he will be a candidate to succeed himself next fall. Dr. W. E. Foster Saturday announced that he would offer for election from the first.

ATLANTA IS SEEKING WOODMEN OF WORLD CONVENTION IN 1917

The sovereign camp of Woodmen of the World will in all probability hold its biennial convention in Atlanta in 1917, according to the statement of Joseph Wilson, head manager of the order. Nearly all the 850 camps of the state have pledged their support to secure the convention during the absence of the family. Officers West and McWilliams are in Atlanta to look on the scene of the robbery by neighbors who were the thief leaving the house. An investigation showed nothing but money was taken by the thief, who was a white man.

WINDOWS SMASHED.

Enraged People of Buchanan Offer Rewards.

Buchanan, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—A reward of $50 has been offered by the city council for the arrest and conviction of the guilty party or parties who broke out the plate glass windows in the Phillips storeroom a few nights ago. This has been supplemented by an additional $25 reward offered by J. A. Rowell, who has an interest in the Phillips building. Large stones were cast through the plate glass windows, damaging three of them so badly that they will have to be replaced. The loss will be about $200. The matter was discussed at the city hall, where several window panes were broken, also the front out of the glass door.

$100,000 ROAD BONDS.

Hamilton County, Fla., Plans for Dixie Highway.

Valdosta, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—Hamilton county, Florida, through which the central route for the Dixie highway passes, will issue road bonds for $100,000 if the plan outlined at a meeting held at Jasper are carried out. The meeting was a very enthusiastic one, and in one day more than 50 per cent of the freeholders in the territory through which the road is to be built, signed the petition asking the county commissioners to call the bond election. Under the law, 25 per cent of the freeholders can authorize an election.

The length of the highway through Hamilton county is approximately 30 miles. The bond issue will be used to build a first-class graded road the entire distance. It will be 30 feet wide, 16 feet of the width to be graded with Florida gravel mixed with sand and clay. This type of road has proven to be almost perfect, and in the construction used in many Florida towns and cities in municipal improvement. The support accorded at the Jasper meeting assures the bond issue, it is said.

They are especially anxious to have all visiting nobles present, and all Shriners, their wives, sweethearts or lady friends are invited.

WILL ASK CHANGE IN POLICE SYSTEM

Directors of Charities Want Thorough Probe of Arrests Before Prisoners Are Put in Cells.

Believing that the present investigation of police affairs affords an opportunity of recommending vital reforms in the Atlanta police method of handling offenders of the law and dealing with certain classes of crime which are brought about largely by sociological conditions, a committee of directors, headed by W. H. Kriegshaber, of the Atlanta Associated Charities, will go before the police board's probe committee on next Friday night.

The most important recommendation to be submitted to the probe committee by Chairman Kriegshaber and his colleagues will urge that a system be installed at police barracks whereby every arrest that is brought into the station be thoroughly investigated before the prisoner is locked in a cell.

Merit of System Proved.

This system of preliminary trials of offenders of the law by a highly educated police officer is in vogue in many of the large cities of the country and its merit has been proven.

It is likely that the Charities committee will suggest that three intelligent men, to be known as inspectors, be appointed to do this work. There will be one inspector for each of the three police watches during the day. In this way many prisoners, who might be unjustly arrested, or arrested on petty offenses, will be turned loose by the inspector on a copy of charges.

One of the committeemen points out that he knew of cases where innocent young men and women had gone crazy from the horrors of a night in jail when if the charges against them had been reasonably investigated by an intelligent police officer, they would have been released awaiting trial. He further stated that the "atmosphere of a prison cell" often has made in after life criminals of otherwise innocent men.

This committeeman cited instances where in Atlanta men had languished for days in a police cell while their families remained ignorant throughout of their whereabouts. He said some of these men were later found to be innocent.

Members of the Committee.

Associated with Chairman Kriegshaber will be Linton C. Hopkins, Jack Lewis, Cator Woolford, E. H. Goodhart and Joe Logan, secretary of the Associated Charities.

It is understood that the Charities delegation will ask the probe committee to give the officers of the Associated Charities police assistance in dealing with the increasing number of street beggars in Atlanta.

The delegation will also submit a plan for keeping a criminal record of every prisoner. This plan provides that every arrest be entered upon a card, the nature of the offense be given, the name of arresting officer and locality in which the offense was committed, all of which data to be submitted to the police recorder.

The members of the Charities committee was held at the chamber of commerce Monday, at which time the recorder was invited for the purpose of going over the plan more thoroughly. Judge Johnson stated that he would be sent Recorder Pro Tem. James W. Mooney in his place.

Chairman Kriegshaber says that his delegation will not appear before the probers in an attitude of criticisers of the police chief or department.

UNBROKEN SLEEP NOW PROMISED TO BLADDER SUFFERERS

Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound Restores Bladder and Kidney Strength to All.

You, who have to get up at least once, and maybe six or eight times, every night because of bladder or kidney weakness, and who have almost forgotten what the restfulness and luxury of an unbroken night of untroubled sleep is like should take a few doses of Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound just before retiring. Take in half glass of water. Even the aged sufferer passes his nights like in the days of his prime. The principal causes of this trouble is enlargement of the Prostate Gland. Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound strengthens the kidneys, prostate gland by acting directly on these organs. After taking a few doses the frequent impulses to urinate cease. You then sleep all night. Other symptoms of weak kidneys, puffy ankles or eyelids; diabetes, dizziness, rheumatism, are cured by Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound. Take a tablespoonful after each meal. Drink plenty of water, in a day or so your kidneys and bladder will act fine and natural. The symptoms disappear like magic, as all impurities are drained from the kidneys. All swelling in ankles or eyelids pass away. Diabetes and dropsy is cured. Back pains and shortness of breath cease to worry you.—(adv.)

COUNCIL TO CREDIT WORK OF TEACHERS DONE OUTSIDE CITY

Alderman Jesse W. Armistead, chairman of the council school committee, Monday introduced in the general council an ordinance authorizing the board of education to give teachers from other school systems credit for work they have done up to three years. The ordinance passed and will be sent to the aldermanic board Thursday, where it is expected to pass without opposition.

Council also passed a resolution by Alderman Armistead ratifying the action of the board of education in paying several of the teachers brought here from other cities salaries in excess of that provided for in the charter.

In placing these measures before council Alderman Armistead said the question of legality had been raised by the mayor, who claimed the board could not give teachers credit for work done in other systems. Mr. Armistead said the board found it necessary at times to go to other cities for efficient teachers.

Labor Legislation To Be Considered At Macon Meeting

For the purpose of outlining the activities of labor before the Georgia legislature in their request for remedial legislation, Louie P. Marquardt, president of the Georgia Federation of Labor, has called a joint meeting of the executive board and the legislative committee in Macon, May 23.

At the recent meeting of the company of the Georgia Federation of Labor four bills, an anti-docking bill, one requiring railroads and other corporations to pay their employees semi-monthly, a bill establishing an office of state printer and a bill enlarging the duties of factory inspectors, were officially indorsed.

GRAND JURY CHARGED ON BEER AND CLUBS

Liquor Traffic Up to This Body Rather Than Police Chief, Says Judge Hill.

That the question of the liquor traffic is up to the grand jury rather than the police, was the opinion expressed in the charge made by Judge Ben Hill to the new grand jury yesterday morning, when he likewise admonished the incoming body to investigate the sale of beer sold under the guise of "near beer."

"You are the final investigating body," he said, "and it is your duty, rather than that of the chief of police, to look out for these things.

"He who despises invasions and subterfuges. This applies as to the liquor laws as well. The law allows the sale of near beer by the new grand jury, which was organized Monday, with L. H. Beck as foreman.

50% ADVANCE ON THIS OIL STOCK MONDAY, MAY 24.

To Investors:

There are only a few propositions that offer the moderate investor a real chance, and to give all investors an equal opportunity to secure a part of this valuable stock before it is advanced nearly double, the date of the advance will be Monday, May 24th. Through reliable newspapers this notice will reach about Ten Million people. If even Two Thousand remit promptly the Company will at once push its refineries at increased capacity and drive ahead the drills on at least ten different properties, any one of which may develop into a rich oil field and soon force this stock to a very high level.

You should not wait too long, but act now, when you can make yourself a useful member in a giant Organization to accomplish real results in a worthy cause. Subscriptions will be sent Recorder Pro Tem. James W. Mooney in his place.

Chairman Kriegshaber says that his delegation will not appear before the probers in an attitude of criticisers of the police chief or department.

In an effort to steal control of the rich Osage oil and gas fields, the greatest oil and gas field under one ownership in the world, the Oil and Gas Monopoly has brought about a crisis in the Oklahoma-Kansas oil fields. It has done this to try and secure a Monopoly on the bidding for this great area of oil and gas lands. The Uncle Sam Oil Company backed by its independent army of investors, and its already big properties, and splendid business is winning out in spite of everything and everybody. People, especially in Kansas and neighboring states, where the Red, White and Blue tank wagons and automobile trucks can be seen daily delivering to the people good oil at reasonable prices, in competition with the rich Oil Monopoly, are among the citizens who are buying up the stock still in its Treasury for sale.

The Uncle Sam Oil Company during the past five months has completed eighty miles of additional pipe line connecting nearly all of its Oil properties with two of its refineries in two states and has added one substantial block of leases on Ranch Creek in Pawnee County, Oklahoma, and has just drilled a very important test well thereon. It now has a completed pipe line through the oil fields for 161 MILES.

The Company has three big leases in Pawnee County, a part of which are right in line with the great Boston Oil Pool in Osage County on the north and the big Cushing gushers in Creek County on the south. A part of one of our great leases is only seven miles from a 4,500-barrel well drilled in a few days ago in the north end of the Cushing field.

It is the determination of the organizers and stockholders of The Uncle Sam Oil Company to get control of at least one million acres of oil and gas leases in the rich Oklahoma oil fields, and it is demanding that this great Osage lease, that has been proven in the Federal Court was honorably secured, shall be validated either by the Secretary of the Interior or with new laws, with a provision written in the lease that shall authorize the Utility or Corporation Commissions to fix the price for which the oil and gas under this big Osage Indian Lease shall be sold to the people.

The Oil Trust Crowd seeks through their corrupt and secret methods to donate large sums to political campaigns and then control Cabinet officers and other high-up officials and then secure this great Osage Lease (the richest Plum in the entire Oil World), for the Oil and Gas Monopoly without this provision to protect the general public written in the lease. Then the Oil and Gas Monopoly can make many more millions off the people of the Missouri Valley. But the fight of The Uncle Sam Oil Company has educated the voters in the 1,000 domestic gas consuming homes in Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas, and the people are watching the secret silent Oil Trust monster that still seeks to control the government and then steal from the Indian tribes and also rob the public by extortionate prices.

There is a new day dawning and The Uncle Sam Oil Company is winning, and the Oil Trust gang is on the run from its Ludlow murderers in Colorado to its Interior Department thieves in the Osage and its big banker-schemers in Washington.

The stock of The Uncle Sam Oil Company would be sure to advance fifty per cent in a few years, by securing JUSTICE in its Osage Lease fight. The Company is driving ahead all along the line. You have read the advertisements of this Company in this Paper during the past ninety days and this is to notify you that this is your last chance to secure the stock at the old price. Every remittance not started to the Company on the old price on or before MONDAY, May 24TH, will be returned. At that time the stock still left in the Treasury will be ADVANCED IN PRICE FIFTY PER CENT. Other advances are sure to follow. The company is gaining and it is bound to go ahead and succeed on big dignified basis.

If you want to get into a proposition that has every indication of accomplishing splendid success, and in a few years increase in value from twenty to fifty times, or possibly a hundred times, attach your check or draft payable to The Uncle Sam Oil Company under the special offer that follows, OR WRITE QUICK FORTHWITH FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION, for if you do not get your remittance started by MONDAY, MAY 24TH, this stock will cost you FIFTY PER CENT more if you are able to get it at all. Time will be money to you in this transaction and let the Company hear from you forthwith. We value our combined properties, including exempted pipe line and established trade name at Four Million Dollars. There is a provision in the Charter that protects the Company from Oil Trust control. Any month a new well may open a great oil pool that by drilling other wells can soon pour out millions and make the large stockholders rich. On one of our big leases in Pawnee County we have one of the deepest producing wells in that district. It is 2,813 feet deep. In a shut down a few days last fall this well filled up and flowed out over the top. The next location around this deep well (over one-half mile deep) may be a five to ten thousand barrel well. There are very few opportunities left where the moderate-means investor can invest a few hundred or a few thousand dollars and secure a real bargain investment opportunity. This stock should now sell for FIVE CENTS per share. It is OFFERED at a bargain investment for to raise new capital quick so our Company can take advantage of the many opportunities in the oil fields along our completed pipe line. We can increase our capacities several times without increasing our general expenses over ten per cent.

The winning of the Osage Lease or the striking of a 2,000 to 5,000-barrel well on some of our many properties should drive this stock up 20 to 25 times this offer to you in a few hours. Your remittance may be small, but combined with a thousand more, will enable The Uncle Sam Oil Company to push ahead on a big basis. We refined through two of our refineries over one thousand barrels per day for the past working day during the month ending April 10. We should reach forty to forty-five thousand barrels daily at first in a few weeks, and with sufficient capital can in a few months refine and market three thousand barrels daily at each refinery or a total of nine thousand barrels per day. With the great Osage Lease saved the Company will build a new big direct pipe line from the heart of the Osage Nation to Kansas City, and in a few years be on the map as one of the great concerns of the Middle West. This Company is gaining, its friends are legion. Come and join a real live army and grow rich with us. Do not delay until the stock is advanced to even three or four times the special offer to you. Secure the stock now. When the advance starts on May 24 it may never stop until it reaches 20 to 25 times this special offer herein. This Company is on the map and doing business and will be growing in value while you sleep. Wake up and heed the hour of opportunity so that your remittance is started at once or by MONDAY, MAY 24TH. FOR REFERENCES YOU CAN WRITE ANY OF THE MANY THE BIG MERCANTILE AGENCIES or we will be glad to send you further particulars, but do not wait too long. Say MONDAY, MAY 24TH will soon arrive and after that date the price of stock will be fifty per cent higher and other advances will come every ten or fifteen days as progress justifies until the price reaches at least five times this offer still to soon reach at the old price. When you buy this stock you will own your proportionate interest in all the present combined properties and in all the company secures and developes in the future. The Company is controlled by a Board of 21 Directors, all whom are large stockholders, several owning from two hundred thousand to two million shares each. The stock sold a few years ago as high as twenty cents per share and was beaten down in value by the persecution of the Oil and Gas Trust and its henchmen. Now The Uncle Sam Oil Company has beaten off this persecution and is winning one victory after another. In other words The Uncle Sam Oil Company is COMING BACK. Get in now and win with us and remember this is your last opportunity until the price is nearly doubled. Oil is cash. Therefore The Uncle Sam Oil Company can prosper even when other business is depressed. If you have lost on other investments make it back on this advancing oil stock that is sure to soon boom in value on a solid basis.

The stock is non-assessable, and the cash payment, together with your agreement to remain loyal to the company, is accepted by the Company as full payment, if the Company approves you as a stockholder. We want only true and loyal, patriotic, liberty-loving citizens as its stockholders, and therefore reserves the right to approve or reject any subscription to its stock. If you should not be approved your money will be promptly returned to you. If you are approved your stock will be issued full paid in consideration of your payment and your agreement to remain loyal to the Company, which agreement is contained in the certificate of stock. Special offer is as follows:

Sports Crackers Play Horribly and Lose

Edited By Dick Jemison

Barons Humble Crackers; Hit Browning in the First, Then Locals Take Ascension

By Dick Jemison.

The Champion Barons made monkeys out of the Crackers Monday afternoon and won the opening game of a four-game series by a 7 to 2 count.

The Barons hammered Browning from the mound in the first inning, tallying three runs, and in the second and third mixed a few hits with a balloon ascension by the Crackers, which netted them two runs in each frame.

After the third inning the game was well worth seeing, but the Crackers could not do anything with Black, and he was receiving sensational support. Whenever the Crackers threatened, a double play stopped whatever chance they appeared to have, and it was mighty little.

Black did not apparently have very much, but he had enough to keep the Crackers at bay, and as his teammates were piling up runs, it was a rather easy game for him to work.

Rumler's Great Catch.

The one bright feature of the entire game was the great running one-handed catch of a foul ball by Bill Rumler, the big outfielder, making the catch a few inches from the ground going full tilt for the players' bench.

Bisland was the only Cracker who seemed to be able to do anything with Black. Bizzy was responsible for both of the runs the Crackers made.

Clark, Carroll and Hale led the Barons' attack with two blows each.

Umpire Jack O'Toole worked a nice game back of the plate, with few, if any, kicks on his decisions, while Williams, a new comer, worked on the bases, and looked to be a man who is on top of the plays all the time.

After the third inning the game was well worth watching. Both teams played snappily, and both Thompson, who had relieved Browning in the second, and Black verified consistent ball.

How They Scored.

With one gone in the first inning, Hemingway worked Browning for a base on balls. Clark scored him with a double to right. Bisland hit to Eibel and was thrown out to Browning, but McBride came through with a double, tallying Clark, and Carroll sent McBride home with a single to left.

Hale greeted Browning in the second inning with a single, and Bill Smith planked him. Then the Crackers blew. Black bunted and Eibel dropped the ball as he tagged him, and both men were safe. Maore batted. Both base runners advanced on a passed ball, and tallied when Hemingway hit to Eibel and Hack threw the ball to the grandstand.

In the third Sloan opened with a double. McBride bunted, and when Thompson hit him on the head with a throw to first, Sloan tallied. Carroll dropped a Texas leaguer between Williams and Rumler. Ellam forced Carroll at second on his grounder, and McBride tallied when Hale hit to Eibel and was retired.

Bisland's triple past Sloan and Carroll's poor relay home sent the Crackers first run home in the fourth. Clark's error of Smith's grounder, Rumler's force of Smith, Clark's error of Moran's grounder and Bisland's single sent in the other in the eighth.

Ladies' Day Today.

Today will be Ladies' day at the ball park. Hardgrove and Wallace will probably start the Barons' battery, with Manning and Smith working for the home crew.

The boys kicked them all out of their systems Monday, it is to be hoped, and will be up an a'en again this afternoon.

BIG SHAKE-UP IN THE LOCALS

Manager Smith Disgusted With Showing of Players and Is Burning Up the Wires.

There will be a big shake-up in the locals in the near future. Manager Smith is not at all pleased with the showing of his pitchers nor his infield to date, and he is making plans to strengthen these departments.

Bill believes he has good catchers, a good outfield, two good pitchers and one infielder. The rest of the personnel of the team does not meet with the approval of the local chieftain, and there is going to be a big upheaval in the other positions before the end of the week.

Bill admits that he should have considerable more hitting strength in the team, but he argues that the main trouble is with his pitching staff, and he is going to bolster that department first.

"Unless a team gets good pitching," said Bill last night, "it is handicapped right from the start, and no matter how well it may field or bat, it's up against it. Then poor pitching tends to throw the defense in the air and causes lack of confidence on the attack.

"We got good pitching at New Orleans Saturday and Sunday, and we won. We must have good pitching first and foremost. I do not expect to win a pennant for even the best of them have their bad days, but it ought to be more consistent than it has been. Allen and Hiett are the only twirlers who have been showing any consistent work.

Bill has some plans that may be announced today. He may shift some pitchers shortly, and he also may land a couple of infielders who can hit.

At any rate, there promises to be some interesting developments in the personnel of the Atlanta team before the end of the week.

G. M. C. WINS PRETTY GAME FROM RIVERSIDE

Final Count of Struggle, 3 to 1. Gheesling Allows But One Hit.

Milledgeville, Ga., May 3.—(Special.) Coach Maddox's Cadets fairly outclassed Frank Anderson's boys in the first game of the series, defeating them 3 to 1.

Gheesling started off strong, fanning 11 out of the first 15 up, Riverside not getting on first. The one run scored by Riverside was made by Jones on a home run over left field fence. This was the only hit made off of Gheesling. In the sixth, Brogden, Georgia Military College outfielder, pulled down a beautiful back-hand catch of a fast traveling fungo drive. This double play managed.

The playing of both teams in the field was fast and near perfect. Georgia Military Cadets appeared to have the edge on batting, but this was the way through, especially at the bat. The attendance was large.

The Georgia Military Cadet boys are celebrating their victory. They play again tomorrow.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Cubs 5, Pirates 1.

Chicago, May 3.—Chicago won its sixth straight victory today, defeating Pittsburg, 5 to 1, in a game shortened to five innings by rain and protracted to three hours and ten minutes between players and umpires. Home runs by Hinchman and Saier produced the first scores, and fast base running, a few hits and Cooper's wild pitch, gave Chicago four in the third. Thereafter the visitors, Manager Bresnahan charged, strove to delay the game so that the threatening rain would fall before the legal four and one-half innings could be played. Manager Clarke of the visitors was expelled after Umpire Byron demanded that his team cease dilatory tactics, and Pitcher Pierce of the Cubs was ousted for throwing his bat at Cooper who, he thought, tried to hit him with the ball.

Dodgers 3, Braves 2.

Brooklyn, May 3.—Dell had the better of a pitching duel with Rudolph today and Brooklyn won from Boston, 3 to 2. Both sides were blanked until the fifth, when Myers double, a wild pitch and Schmidt's dropping the ball, preparatory to a throw to the plate on Schult's grounder, let in the first run. Boston tied the score in the seventh on Daubert's three-base wild throw and Maranville's single. Successive triples by Cutshaw and Myers and an out gave Brooklyn the winning runs in their half of the seventh.

Philadelphia, May 3.—After being blanked for eight innings New York rallied in the ninth today and defeated Philadelphia, 3 to 2. In the ninth Lobert scored on his double, Pfeffer's out and G. Burns' sacrifice fly. Singles by Robertson and Brainerd were followed by Meyers' single and Whitted's bad throw to the plate and two more runners scored. Fromme and Chalmers had a battle until the eighth inning, when the former retired for a pinch hitter.

LOOKOUTS SIGN THREE PITCHERS

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 3.—(Special.)—Chattanooga signed three pitchers today, Waanes, former New Orleans twiler, was bought from Brooklyn. Burke, an oldtime southpaw, was picked up as a free agent. Clark was claimed from Nashville by the waiver route. Hill has been released to the Scranton team of the New York State league.

When the three new men report McCormick will have eight pitchers, three of whom must be released.

Tech High v. Donald Fraser, at Decatur.

TECH TRACK TEAM DEFEATED AUBURN

But Donahue's Men Made a Good Showing Against Greater Experience.

Auburn, Ala., May 3.—(Special.)—Auburn, though defeated by Georgia Tech in her first intercollegiate track meet for three years, made a very creditable showing, scoring 46 points to 70 for the more experienced Tech representatives.

Auburn recognized track as an intercollegiate sport for the first time in three seasons, and was unable to present a finished appearance. She showed to advantage in the races, but lack of practice prevented her showing to form in the events requiring more skill. In the matter of first places Auburn split with Tech, winning six firsts and tying another out of thirteen events. Hart, veteran Auburn star, and Mauck, for Tech, won two first places each, while Glover, for Tech, the individual star of the afternoon, corralled two firsts and tied for first in the hand jump.

The track was in poor condition and slow, and no records were made, but good records were made considering the condition of the track.

The events, with contestants, follow:

100-Yard Dash—Hart (Auburn), 10 2-5; Preas (Tech), Nigles (Tech).

High Jump—Robinson (Tech), 5 feet 9 inches; Jordan (Tech), Forbes (Auburn).

One-Half Mile—Cooke (Auburn), 2 minutes 6 3-5 seconds; Sparks (Tech), Conles (Tech).

Shot Put—Taylor (Auburn), 35 feet 6 inches; Preas (Tech), Mauck (Tech).

High Hurdles—Glover (Tech), 17 1-5; Jordan (Tech), Harrell (Auburn).

220-Yard Dash—Hart (Auburn), 24 seconds; Nigles (Tech), Giriffe (Tech).

Discuss Throw—Mauck (Tech), 108 feet 7 inches; Pendergrass (Auburn), Davis (Auburn).

Mile Run—Coope (Auburn), 4:44, Conles (Tech).

Broad Jump—Forbes (Auburn and Glover (Tech) tied, 20 feet 5 inches, Askew (Auburn).

440-Yard Dash—Watkins (Auburn), 53 2-5, Sparks (Tech), Nigles (Tech).

Pole Vault—Smith (Tech) and Jordan (Tech), tied, 10 feet. Harrell (Auburn).

NORTH SIDE OF GRAMMAR LEAGUE TO CLOSE TODAY

The north side section of the local Grammar league will wind up the 1915 season this afternoon, while the semi-final round of games in the south side section will be played.

On the north side Oakland is leading the race, having won seven games and lost one, and, inasmuch as they will easily win this afternoon, have practically cinched the gonfalon.

On the south side the Normal school has almost cinched the pennant, and by winning the game this afternoon will have this honor practically won.

The winners of the pennant in each section will meet some time later in a five-game series at Piedmont Park to determine the city champions.

The games to be played this afternoon are:

North Side.

Tech v. Edgewood, at southeast Piedmont.
Oakland v. Crew, at northeast Piedmont.

South Side.

Normal v. Histon, at Ziebelma.
Formwalt v. Bass, at Grant Park.
Fraser v. Grant Park, at Grant Park.

Ailments of Men Happily Overcome

SUCCESSFULLY TRIED BY MANY.

Undoubtedly the following suggestion will work wonders for that great class of men who, through dissipation of their natural strength, find themselves in their 'second childhood' long before the three score and ten allotted to life's pleasures and enjoyments are reached.

It is presumed to be infallible, and highly efficient in quickly restoring in the nervous exhaustion, weak vitality, melancholia and the functions.

By taking it at home no man need be the wiser as to another's short-comings, and expensive fees are avoided.

Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full, bounding health, and all the joys that go with enjoying it, let it be stated that the prescription now only for three grain Cadomene tablets, in sealed tubes with full directions for self-administration. The tablets contain no opiates or habit-forming drugs, so a physician's prescription is not necessary. Well-stocked pharmacies supply these tablets which possess the most wonderful tonic—invigorating power known. The tablets effect of their use is soon apparent in new strength and nerve force.

UGH! CALOMEL MAKES YOU DEATHLY SICK

Stop using dangerous drug before it salivates you! It's horrible!

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. Don't have a bad breath, sour stomach or headache. Nothing else, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.

TECH AND GEORGIA BATTLES THIS WEEK

Will Have Important Bearing on Several Section Rankings.

With both teams putting in every hour in hand work in anticipation of the coming two games on Grant field, Friday and Saturday, two battle royals are promised followers of college sports, when Tech and Georgia tie up. This is the first time in quite a while that the first two games of the series have been played locally, it usually being the custom to stage the first two encounters in the Classic City.

Up until the Mercer series last week, Tech had a perfect record. That is, no team had been able to win a series, and before the Baptists captured both games of the series Tech's chances for first honors in the all-southern association were very bright. Georgia has also lost only one series, Auburn downing them in two out of three battles.

This makes the race very complicated, and no matter which team wins, at least four teams will be claimants for honors.

Nevertheless, regardless of what hangs on the outcome of the series, it is a lead-pipe cinch that when these two meet in the first game Friday, things will begin to happen, and local followers of college baseball will be treated to two of the finest games possible.

Tickets for the games will go on sale today at Tumlin Bros.' two stores.

THREE TEN-ROUND BOUTS ON FRIDAY AT THE COLUMBIA

Three corking ten-round bouts, or thirty rounds of boxing is the card Promoter Mike Saul has planned for local fans at the Columbia theater next Friday night.

The first bout on the card next Friday will be a ten-round mill between Eddie Hanlon, local welter, and Battling Budd, who recently won over Terry Nelson and Kid Lucca. The second between Kid Underwood and Battling Budd. Kid Tomlin, the newsboys champion, and Willie Howard, of New York, clash in the ten-round opener.

Popular prices will prevail. Tickets sell for 50 cents to $1.

CONNIE LEWIS DEPOSED AS COLUMBIA MANAGER

Savannah, Ga., May 3.—Connie Lewis was deposed as manager of the Columbia club, in the South Atlantic league, Sunday, and has been appointed by President N. E. Corish as a member of the league's staff of umpires, succeeding Frank Norcum, who is ill and will drop out temporarily. Lewis was succeeded as manager of the Savannahers by Douglass Harbison, who managed the club the greater part of last season.

Ed Walsh Is Ill.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 3.—Ed Walsh, Chicago American league pitcher, who is here with grippe, is in such a condition that his departure for Chicago will have been postponed indefinitely. Walsh's physician predicted it would be several weeks, if not more, before he again would be in condition to pitch.

FAIR CONCESSIONS TO BE CONSIDERED AT MEETING TODAY

At a meeting of the directors of the Southern Fair association Monday afternoon, S. B. Turman reported that as chairman of the committee on concessions he had held a conference with President Ben Lee Crew and the park commission, and J. O. Cochran, general manager of parks.

"We agreed to get together," stated Mr. Turman, "and try to arrange matters so there would be no conflict in the concessions let by the city and of those let by the fair association when the fair is held each October, and the gentlemen ready to co-operate in every way."

There will be a meeting of the park commission Tuesday afternoon when the matter of the concessions will be taken up and acted on.

The building committee of the fair association, of which Ivan E. Allen is chairman, reported that the committee would meet Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and arrange to advertise for bids for the removal of between 10,000 and 11,000 cubic yards of dirt for the necessary grading of the grounds.

TRIBUTE PAID WARDEN BY THE PRISON PAPER

The May issue of Good Words, the Atlanta federal prison publication, pays splendid tribute to the work and plans of Fred Zerbst, the new warden, who has just completed his first month as head of the institution.

The following is an extract from the prison paper:

"The warden proposes to increase the equipment and efficiency of our shops and to employ them more as trade schools for the instruction of the men. By an energetic and systematic application of this plan the men will be taught industry and skill and will be equipped to successfully and honorably enter the larger world when released. This policy will also be highly productive to preventing men of previous lawless lives from returning to those activities on which society frowns. He also plans to employ more men in agriculture and thereby increase the productivity of the farm. This will not only keep more of the men in the open, but will enable the prison to materially vary the monotony of our diet and provide a larger table with a greater variety of garden produce in season. Warden Zerbst's aim is to employ all available means to reduce the population of this and other penal institutions and to reduce to the greatest possible extent, that black indictment of society, the recidivist. Another step in advance, advocated by the warden, which will of course tend to reduce recidivist, is compensation for prison labor. The warden believes that this should be a reserve fund, payable to him at the expiration of the taxpayers, but based upon the real earning capacity of the man and not a dollar per diem as it should be paid regularly to the men and dependents. May we endeavor, by good conduct and team work, to hasten the consummation of these most desirable ends."

Fishing Party.

Quite a crowd of Atlanta sports are going to Penola mills Friday morning on a fishing trip. They will meet at Kimball house in automobiles at 6:30 o'clock Friday morning. Any Atlantans with cars that care to join the party will be welcome.

TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS OF THE RACE QUESTION

University Commission Will Meet in Montgomery on Wednesday.

The university commission on southern race questions willl meet Wednesday afternoon, May 5, at the Exchange hotel, Montgomery. This is a body of southern university professors who are trying to find out what the so-called negro problem is, and how best to approach it from the point of view of the welfare of both the southern white man and the negro.

The commission is composed of one representative from each of eleven southern universities. Professor R. J. H. DeLoach represents the University of Georgia.

The commission was organized three years ago at Nashville at the time of the meeting of the Southern Sociological congress. Since additional to the members mentioned above, many advisory members have been elected, among them being Chancellor D. C. Barrow, of the University of Georgia. All of them will be present, in addition to a number of prominent men from Atlanta, Birmingham, Montgomery and elsewhere.

The commission was organized in the belief that the time has come for southern men to study in a scientific way the question of race relationship in the south, and not leave that important subject almost exclusively to those who, for many reasons, may not be so excited to approach the subject from a southern point of view. The work of the commission is designed to understand actual conditions and then, if possible, to make some suggestions that may improve conditions where improvement is needed.

Last December the commission met at George Washington university, Washington, D. C., on which occasion President Wilson received the members at the white house and addressed them on the importance of the work they are trying to do.

GINNERS OF GEORGIA HOLD CONVENTION IN ATLANTA IN JULY

Six thousand cotton ginners of Georgia will be invited to attend a ginners' convention in Atlanta on or about July 25, to perfect the organization of the Georgia Ginners' association, to be affiliated with the national association.

F. Hayward, of Memphis, Tenn., representing Veigh Cockrum, president of the national association, is in Atlanta for a stay of two or three days, and is working out the details for the proposed convention.

The primary object of the association will be to fix prices for ginning and for the adoption of rules and resolutions that mean for the general advancement of the interests of the members.

CAPITAL CITY CLUB BUYS BROOKHAVE

remodeling purposes by the Brookhaven estates.

At last night's meeting R. F. Maddox, former president of the club, in moving the purchase of the Country club, discussed the question from a financial viewpoint and showed where the club could not do otherwise than exercise the option. He showed that every living ex-president of the club backed this move. Mr. Maddox was followed by Clark Howell who, in seconding his motion, declared that the club could not afford not to exercise the option it held on the Brookhaven property.

The argument in favor of the action taken last night was based chiefly upon the fact that the club by exercising the option at this time would save $27,500 in the purchase of Brookhaven, $10,000 reduction in the bond issue, $10,000 in improvements on the property and $7,500 in life memberships already subscribed contingent upon the exercise of the option at this time. The advocates of the action cited the large increase of the membership of the club which has resulted since the operation of the Brookhaven Country club, and the very general interest shown by the great majority of the members. It was predicted that with the opening up of the eighteen-hole golf course this summer Brookhaven would become the most popular country club in this entire section. It was also predicted that the financial condition of the club would be greatly improved by this action. This was based upon the fact that the club's finances are now in better shape than they were at the time of the taking over of the Brookhaven lease.

Announcement was made at last night's meeting that the work on the improvements contemplated will be started at an early date and rushed to conclusion, following the plans of A. Ten Eyck Brown, architect.

Improvements Planned.

The proposed plans for remodeling Brookhaven, when perfected, will give the Capital City club one of the handsomest country club properties in the entire south, and one that will compare most favorably in picturesqueness with any in the country.

The plans as drawn by A. Ten Eyck Brown, well-known Atlanta architect, call for a large dance hall, which will be built on top of the present building. This will be enclosed by beautiful stained-glass windows, which will swing outward, allowing cooling breezes to blow into the expansive hall during the summer months, and enclosing the hall in winter.

From this beautiful dance hall one will get an excellent view of the broad lake, which stretches far to the right and left of the clubhouse. This lake is one of the most beautiful spots around Atlanta. It has really served to make Brookhaven what it is today. Its waters are stocked with black bass and mountain and rainbow trout.

The elaborate plans drawn by Mr. Brown call for extensive remodeling of the baths and locker rooms on the ground floor. There will be sufficient locker rooms and baths for the anticipated increased membership. Wide brick terraces will be constructed on all sides of the building, and golfers who finish their games will be served refreshments on these terraces, without their going into the clubhouse. A sun parlor 100 feet in length will also be added.

J. E. C. PEDDER TELLS OF VALUE OF CREDIT

In discussing "Business Life Insurance" at a luncheon of the Atlanta Association of Life Insurance Monday, James E. C. Pedder, division superintendent of the Bradstreet company, devoted a large portion of his time to the value of credit in commercial exchanges.

"The more economic the life of a city," he said, "the higher the credit. Credit is one of the most delicate things in the world, and business life insurance, taken out for the protection of the business, often prevents the impairment of credit and certainly heightens the stability of a business house in the commercial world."

Mr. Pedder was introduced by R. S. Bardwell, president of the association, and a vote of thanks was tendered him after his address.

New York, May 3.—Cotton was weak and unsettled again today under renewal of the selling movement which developed toward the end of last week, and closed easy at a net decline of 11 to 13 points.

Liverpool just about met Saturday's local decline, and the opening here was easy, with first prices 10 to 13 points lower. Wall street and commission houses quite generally had over-Sunday selling orders for execution around the ring, and cotton was thrown on Wall street around the initial figures, and prices soon steadied. Liverpool buying here was attributed to covering of straddlers at the wider differences, and, in addition to realizing by recent sellers, there appeared to be some fresh buying for investment account. The demand, however, tapered off on a rally which carried October contracts up to Saturday's closing figures, and other months to within 2 or 3 points of that level, and the market became weak and unsettled under the lead at noon.

The eastern belt forecast for clear weather in all sections except North Carolina and failure of the detailed weather report to show anything more than light scattering showers in eastern sections, helped the early decline in the morning, and there may also have been some buying on the larger clearances. The demand was not large, and the selling was aggressive, and when it was found that the offering was not being met by important bull support, there was a renewal of heavy Wall street liquidation and more active local selling, which broke prices into new low ground for the day.

October contracts sold at 10.26, or $5.20 a bale below recent high records, and the market closed at practically the lowest point. The unsettled ruling may possibly have contributed to the decline, but judging from talk around the ring the selling was based less on any particular item in the day's news than the predictions of improving crop conditions and apprehensions that the old crop surplus will become more of a pressure against the contract markets. Port receipts, 12,815. United States port stocks 1,293,722. Exports 68,163; so far this season 7,288,292. Interior receipts 9,175.

New Orleans Also Dips.

New Orleans, May 3.—The cotton market was soft today under selling pressure which seemed to come both from liquidating longs and bears who were impressed by favorable weather reports and the passing of the belt east of the Mississippi and by the easiness of the stock market.

Private reports of rains in the eastern belt caused weakness in the early trading, with poor sales intensified, but after a decline of 8 to 15 points from Saturday's close there was a rally of 2 to 3 points over Saturday's close on the afternoon call, which on account the market displayed weakness of a pronounced sort, which gossip credited with sympathy with the fall in stocks. At the lowest the most active months were 10 to 25 points under Saturday's final figures.

The close was at a net loss of 18 to 21 points.

Exports for the day were very heavy for this time of the year—84,319 bales—and bulls pointed out that the official weather reports did not confirm the private accounts of rain and the prediction of frost in the extreme northern portion of the belt early in the momentary strength, but with prices slightly above Saturday's close fresh selling was provoked.

CHIEF'S INSPECTION OF ATLANTA CLUBS NOT YET COMPLETED

Police Chief J. L. Beavers said last night that the investigation of Atlanta's locker clubs by the police had not been completed, and that he was not yet satisfied that they were within the law.

He did not say to what extent the recent investigation had been carried, but said that all the clubs were not visited by him men on the last tour. He intimated that it was merely a Sunday round, to determine whether the clubs were dispensing liquor on Sunday.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, May 3.—(Special.)—Anticipating a period of favorable weather for the new crop believing all of the increased demand for cotton goods and for other purposes has been discounted. That the decrease in the acreage, the increased in the use of fertilizers is fact, believing that all the factors which are absorbing the cotton and pointing to a decidedly smaller crop next year have ceased to weigh in favor of the market, the sentiment has become very bearish, with a natural increase in the short interest. The destruction of an American ship created the fear of international complications causing the liquidation of many Wall street accounts. We consider this decline as a natural reaction and do not change our views as to the future course of the market, especially to a higher range of values.

HUBBARD BROS.

New York, May 3.—(Special.)—The weather throughout the south over the week-end having been regarded as favorable, selling became quite liberal at the opening of the local market today under which prices declined about 15 points. However, all of this loss was recovered shortly afterward owing to complaints of the need of general rains in the Mississippi valley. In fact general rain forecast for warm weather is required in all states except Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, and this situation indicates a good character of the crop, and a normal yield of prices. As liquidation has been quite nearly completed, the market now would undoubtedly respond more to the favorable news, received its impetus from either unfavorable political or crop developments in British textile conditions.

Finds a Cure For Pellagra

All Skin Eruption Gone, Doctors Now Convinced Mrs. Vaughn Is Entirely Well.

Mrs. C. H. Vaughn, Millville, Ark., writes: "There is nothing I ever could do but write, I can do it now. There is no sign of skin eruption. One of our local doctors told me that my cure was one of the grandest things that ever happened—not only for me, but for the whole community, to let them know that there is a cure for pellagra.

"All the doctors that waited on me are convinced that your remedy is a real cure."

There's the true word from a cured patient. If you have Pellagra, or know of anyone who suffers from Pellagra, it is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn, who has fought and conquered the dreadful malady right in the heart of the Pellagra belt in Alabama.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off; sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red with much mucous and choking; indigestion and nausea; either diarrhea or constipation.

There is hope. Get Baughn's Big Free book on Pellagra, and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address Baughn Compounding Co., Box 2002, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.

HEADACHES

Thousands of men and women suffer from headaches every day, other thousands have headaches every week or every month, and still others have headaches occasionally, but not at regular intervals. The best Doctor is often unable to find the cause of many of these headaches, and in most other cases, knowing the cause, he does not know what will remove it, so as to give a permanent cure. All he can do is to prescribe the usual pain relievers, which give temporary relief, but the headache returns as usual, and treatment is again necessary. If you suffer from headaches, no matter what their nature, take Anti-kamnia Tablets, and the result will be satisfactory in the highest degree. You can obtain them at all druggists in the world. Price 10c. 25c worth or more. Ask for A-K Tablets.

SICK-HEADACHES

Sick-headache, the most miserable of all sicknesses, loses its terrors when A-K Tablets are taken. When you feel an attack coming on, take two tablets, and in many cases, the attack will be warded off. During an attack take one A-K Tablet every two hours. The rest and comfort which follow, can be obtained in no other way.

Genuine A-K Tablets bear the K monogram. At all druggists.

STOCK MARKET WAS ON DECLINE MONDAY

Possible Attitude of American Government on Foreign Situation Was Outstanding Feature.

New York, May 3.— Assuccession of substantial declines, with some slight late recovery, accompanied the course of today's trading in the stock market. Dealings were once more over the million-share mark, but half a dozen issues chiefly United States Steel contributed more than 40 per cent of the whole.

The foreign situation, in its possible bearing on the attitude of the American government, was the outstanding feature, heavy selling following the intimation that Washington intends to make representations once more regarding alleged aggressions against American vessels. The international situation was availed of by the short interest for the renewal of bearish operations.

War specialities were naturally the principal sufferers because of their recent phenomenal advances, but the general list, with few exceptions, was affected in a similar tendency. Steel, which early in the day repeated its recent high figure of 69¾, fell back 3 cent high figure of 69¾, and other speculative favorites, points, and other speculative favorites, points, and other railways, lost 2 to 4 including standard railways, lost 2 to 4 points.

Moderate optimism was reflected in general advances from the west, although this was neutralized by some further adverse railway returns for March. Backwardness of the southern tonnage movement was seen in Louisville and Nashville's loss of $382,000 for March. Total sales of stocks, 1,044,000 shares.

Bonds heavy, with an abatement of investment inquiry. Total sales, $3,650,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

Coffee.

New York, May 3.—There was some scattered, local selling at the opening of the coffee futures market here today, and first prices were weak, 9 points net lower, but offerings were by no means aggressive, and prices rallied sharply, helped by July shorts, reports of steadiness in Brazil and predictions that the world's visible supply statement would probably show a loss of over 50,000 bags for the month of April. Closed net 5 points lower to 7 points higher. Sales, 19,000.

AMEND AUTO LAW; URGES PHIL COOK

Secretary of State Wants Measure Changed So as to Be Enforced or Blotted From Statute Book.

Declaring that he is of the opinion that if the legislature fails to fix some definite means of enforcing the automobile law and collecting the fees it would be well to blot the law from the statute book, Secretary of State Phil Cook, in his 1914 report just submitted, makes the following recommendations for amendment of the law:

The act should require any arresting officer to arrest, without warrant, upon view, any person operating an automobile contrary to law and take the person to the nearest magistrate for trial.

The fee for registering a motorcycle should be reduced to $2.

Professional chauffeurs should be required to register and pay a license fee of $2.

It should be a misdemeanor for any operator of a car not to stop and give his name and address, and the name and address of the owner of the car, in case of accident.

Counterfeit numbers are being used in this state; it should be made a misdemeanor to use any number other than that furnished by the state.

The secretary of state reports that he has collected in fees during the year $112,701.23, from which he has paid into the state treasury $97,581.29 net.

"Amend Blue Sky Law."

Secretary Cook also suggests an amendment to the "blue sky" law by the addition of the following section:

"Nothing in this act shall be construed as to prohibit a bona fide owner of any stocks, bonds or other securities, who is at the time a resident of this state, from selling, exchanging or otherwise disposing of the same when not made in the course of continuing or repeated transactions of a similar nature, provided that the same are sold by said owner in good faith and not for the purpose of evading the provisions of this act; provided, however, that it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the secretary of state that such stocks, bonds or other securities are legitimate investments, and that they were acquired and held by the owner in good faith, and not for the purpose of evading the provisions of this act, and that said owner desires in good faith to dispose of said securities; but before such authorization to sell shall issue the owner of such securities shall register, in a book kept for that purpose by the secretary of state, the stocks, bonds or other securities desired to be sold, giving the character of the security, the par value thereof, the date of issue, and any other data concerning the same which the secretary of state may require. A fee of $5 shall be charged for such authorization."

Owing to the increase of the work in his office Secretary of State Cook asks that the legislature make appropriation for additional help.

200 FEDERAL PRISONERS ARE ASKING FOR PAROLE

Fred Zerbst, warden of the Atlanta federal prison, stated on Monday that 200 applications for parole, filed by prisoners in the Atlanta federal prison, will be considered by the parole board, which meets next Monday. The board is composed of Dr. J. H. Dunlap, of Washington, D. C., superintendent of prisons, Warden Zerbst and Dr. J. C. Weaver, prison physician.

ATLANTA TO SEEK BIG CONVENTION

Effort Will Be Made to Get 1916 Gathering of American Medical Association Members.

The Fulton County Medical society and the Atlanta Hotel Men's association, acting in conjunction with the Atlanta Convention bureau, are actively formulating plans to bring the 1916 convention of the American Medical association to Atlanta. The matter was taken up and discussed in detail Monday afternoon, when Dr. Floyd McRae appeared before the regular monthly meeting of the hotel men's meeting, with Fred Houser, in the chambers of the convention bureau.

When Dr. McRae expressed himself as willing to go to San Francisco this summer to appear before the medical committee in the interest of Atlanta, provided he had the assistance of the hotel men and the convention bureau, it was decided that he should be accompanied by Fred Houser, secretary of the bureau, and four delegates representing the hotel men and the medical fraternity.

The proposition of Dr. McRae was received with enthusiasm by the hotel men, who agreed to subscribe $2,000 toward defraying the expenses of entertaining the medical association. The Fulton County Medical association will contribute $2,500, and immediately undertake to raise the remainder of the $10,000 necessary. The convention bureau will stand responsible for the seventeen halls needed by the several departments of the convention to hold their meetings.

The American Medical association is looked upon as one of the best conventions to be secured in the United States. It has on an average an attendance of 7,500 persons.

During the business section of the Hotel Men's association, William C. Royer, manager of the Piedmont hotel, was elected president of the association to fill out the unexpired term of J. P. Letton, formerly manager of the Winecoff hotel. R. L. Grant, manager of the Georgian Terrace, was elected vice president, and T. C. Steele, manager of the Winecoff hotel, was elected to the executive board of the association.

RALPH M'CLELLAND IS NOW CHIEF CLERK OF MUNICIPAL COURT

Ralph McClelland, formerly a deputy clerk in the municipal court, was made chief clerk yesterday to fill the office left vacant when Thomas Jeffries, chief clerk, entered the office of clerk of the superior court to succeed Thomas Jeffries, who was elected ordinary.

Mr. McClelland is one of the best known officials in the courthouse. He has been in the municipal court service ever since the inauguration of the system.

NO MEETING TONIGHT AT CENTRAL CHURCH

The usual Wednesday night meeting of the Central Congregational church is omitted and all are invited to the seminary meeting at the Union Tabernacle church, McDaniel street.

ROTARIANS PLAN FOR TRIP TO ROME WEDNESDAY WEEK

Plans for the Atlanta Rotary club's pilgrimage to Rome will have an important place on the program of the semi-monthly club luncheon today at 1 o'clock at the Hotel Anatey. The trip to Rome will be made Wednesday week, May 12, and will be in the nature of a return visit in which the Rotary club, of Rome, Ga., will extend to the Atlanta club the same elaborate hospitality that Atlanta extended the Romans when they came here in force last February.

The Rotary crowd, probably nearly a hundred strong, will leave at 8:35 a. m. over the Western and Atlantic Wednesday morning, May 12, arriving in Rome at 11:35. The club will be met by automobiles and carried for an hour's ride over the beautiful hills around Rome, after which there will be a luncheon, which will be presided over by A. S. Adams, president of the Atlanta club.

In the afternoon there will be golf tourneys, tennis matches, basket parties and numerous other forms of entertainment. The banquet will be served at 7 p. m.

Last, but not least, comes the ball and reception tendered the Atlanta Rotary club by Rotarian de Loza A. W. Van Hoose, LL.D., president of Shorter college. The Rotarians are looking forward with pleasure to being entertained by two hundred charming young ladies.

The regular speaker at today's luncheon will be Thomas Lee Jordan, who will talk on the benefits and duties of membership in the Rotary club. Several other five-minute talks are scheduled.

Same Sturdy Construction at the same Before-the-War Prices

It's true that the great foreign war has brought a sharp increase in the cost of leather, but through fortunate purchases—made several months ago—the Snow shoe still maintains, at popular prices, that staunch construction and quality which has given it such an enviable reputation for forty years.

The "Snow" Wearmore Shoes for Men

You should see the Snow Arch-Supporting Insole, the Snow Cushion Insole, and the Snow "Non-Wear" Sole.

The "Wearmore" Cotton Fabric Sole outwears three or four ordinary leather soles, and is obtainable in Snow shoes exclusively at $4.00 or over.

We are pleased to be able to offer you this splendid line of men's shoes at before-the-war prices:

$3.00 to $5.00

Snow boys' shoes at $2.50 to $3.00 look just like dad's—and they wear, too.

Snow cloth and buckskin top novelties are especially popular at this time.

If there are better shoes made for men and boys at these prices we have yet to see them—but don't take our word for it; drop in and examine the line yourself.

WHY A PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT!

First—He installs systems without "red tape," which show at a glance assets in their order of realizability — liabilities in their order of liquidation.

Second—This process perfected, the net values of assets are readily determined.

Third — His certificate to a financial statement is final evidence of its correctness in whole and in part.
